Irate Citizens Seek Firing Of Angola Officers

Prison Security Blasted; Grant Is Target Of Attack

ST. FRANCISVILLE, La., Sept. 23 (AP) — The chairman of a citizens group upset about Angola prison escapes today demanded the governor fire penitentiary leaders. Then he refused to let institutions director Edward Grant reply.

The meeting of the West Feliciana Parish Citizens Committee was attended by about 50 persons and Wilburn V. Lunn, Gov. Robert Kennon's executive counsel.

The citizens unit, formed in 1953 to protest Angola breakouts, is headed by Edward Percy, plantation owner.

He called the session, invited Grant and the governor, and told Lunn, the governor's representative.

"We want you to fire all of them, take them out there, that means Dr. Edward Grant, Warden Maurice Siple, associate warden John Maynard and chief security officer V. J. Walker . . . do that and you will be on the road to correcting the situation."

State troopers and prison guards, meanwhile, kept vigil for the last two of eight convicts who broke out of Angola Monday. Six were captured and the two still free are surrounded within wooded lowlands along Big Bayou Sara, near St. Francisville outskirts.

The warden speculated that the pair, Richard Edmiston and Herman Stainaker, might have slipped away.

Percy, addressing Grant and Lunn, said, "We know more about what is going on at Angola than you do at Baton Rouge. And we don't want to hear a lecture from Grant on his high falutin' policy."

Grant, as institutions director, is top official in prison administration. When he asked for a chance to reply, Percy refused, saying the meeting was called "to hear what we have to say."

Grant angrily declared, "you planned this whole thing before we got here and you planned it so we wouldn't have a chance to say anything."

Percy complained administration leaders had failed to do anything about promised expansion of telephone service in the isolated Angola region, so residents could be warned of convict escapes. He also said the governor "has ignored us."

In Baton Rouge, West Feliciana Sheriff T. H. Martin, who played a major role in the manhunt, told the Louisiana Sheriffs Assn. he wanted help in getting something done about the "pitiful" security at Angola.

The sheriffs named a five-member committee to discuss the issue with Kennon.

Martin criticized Angola administration, saying convicts at the "nice playhouse for criminals" had refused to work unless given gloves and dry clothing.

Sleeping Sickness Kills Six Persons In Indiana Town

FORT BRANCH, Ind., Sept. 23 —UP— Six persons have died and six others are ill of encephalitis, a brain disease commonly known as "sleeping sickness," health authorities revealed Friday.

Dr. Albert R. Marshall, head of the communicable disease division of the Indiana State Health Board, confirmed at Indianapolis that three men and three women — all of them above 60 years old — died within the past month.

Marshall said he believed the outbreak had run its course. All those who became ill took sick within a 10-day period and no new cases have been reported for a week.

Mosquitoes were blamed for the spread of the disease in this small town of 2,000 persons, where the principal industry is a meat packing plant.

Doctors in the area treated the patients for more than a week without realizing there was an outbreak. Marshall said. Then they compared notes and found the symptoms of the 12 cases were similar.

Trial Verdict Branded As 'Shameful' And 'Shocking' By Directors Of NAACP

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People tonight described the acquittal verdict in the Emmett Till case at Sumner, Miss., as "shameful" and "shocking."

The all-white jury acquitted Roy Bryant and his half-brother, John W. Milam, in the "wolf-whistle" slaying of Till, a South Side Chicago Negro boy.

A statement, signed by Dr. Channing H. Tobias, chairman of the NAACP's Board of Directors, said: "The verdict is as shameful as it is shocking. The jurors who returned it deserve a medal from the Kremlin for meritorious service in communism's war against democracy."

They have done their best to discredit our judicial system, to hold us up as a nation of hypocrites and to undermine faith in American democracy.

"Their intolerance is all the more glaring in light of Judge Swango's fair and impartial conduct of the trial, the prosecutor's skill and vigor in presenting the case, and the full and fair coverage of the trial by press, radio and television."

The possible entry of Davis, a strong campaigner, for several weeks has been a top topic of debate in the political arena.

Davis has remained vague, and his statement was the first indication of when he even would indicate his intentions.

Three of five announced candidates for governor were convention speakers.

The political pace gained speed when state police Supt. Francis Grevenberg challenged New Orleans Mayor Leche's Morrison after the mayor told the sheriffs he believed in giving them a "pat on the back instead of a kick in the pants."

Grevenberg's gambling racket drive stirred the wrath of some sheriffs because of the importance given "home rule" in this state.

After Morrison's remark, Grevenberg, in his turn to address the sheriffs, said "I'm not going to start my campaign until I resign Oct. 10 . . . But I would like to defend myself against Mayor Morrison's remarks that I've kicked local officials in the pants."

"I've done everything possible to cooperate with local officials," he said. "I think most of you know that, and Mayor Morrison knew that from the beginning."

Grevenberg said the mayor was given every break in New Orleans, and related that he lunched with Morrison's police superintendent some months ago at the Roosevelt Hotel, complaining about gambling at the 1-2-3 Club across the street from the hotel.

"What about this place, when are you going to knock it off?" he said he asked the New Orleans official. Grevenberg said he was assured it was only "an old ladies' home."

Janet Prowls Westward; 100 Persons Killed

Thousands Made Homeless; Islands Heavily Lashed

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 23 (AP) — Hurricane Janet, leaving an estimated 100 dead and thousands homeless on Barbados in the Windward Islands, caused northwest storm warnings on islands off the South American coast as she prowled westward on a serpentine course today.

Storm warnings went up over the Dutch-owned islands of Bonaire, Curacao and Aruba, and over the Paraguan Peninsula on the east side of the Gulf of Venezuela.

A hurricane hunter plane penetrated the eye of Janet and at 5 p.m. EST its center was near latitude 13.1 north, longitude 65.5 west, or about 300 miles south-southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico. This was some 1,350 miles southeast of Miami.

The storm's serpentine path carried it westward or west-northwestward at about 13 miles an hour. Top winds were estimated at 115 miles an hour over a small area near the center. Winds of gale force extended 125 miles north and 100 miles south of the eye.

Continued movement was predicted toward the west or west-northwest at about the same rate during the night with some increase in intensity.

ONE-FAMILY PICKET LINE CLOSES ALABAMA PLANT—Railroad car production at the big plant of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co. in Bessemer, Ala., has been halted by a one-family picket line composed of E. ## Woman Outwits Murderer After Musician Slain

DENVER, Sept. 23—UP—A diabolical killer, his courage bolstered by narcotics and a nickel-plated pistol was still at large Friday night after he murdered a talented young Kansas City musician and missed slaying a 23-year-old girl only because she outsmarted him.

"He was an evil man, a wicked, man, a sex maniac," his intended victim, Joyce Danielson, a hospital technician, murmured from a bullet wound in her shoulder, head lacerations from a beating and tire marks on her face.

The musician, 26-year-old Hubert Hahn, a trombonist with the Denver Symphony Orchestra, had no chance early Friday when the slightly-built, curly-haired gunman abducted the young couple. Hahn was found dead on a country road in Adams county. Just outside Denver, early Friday. He had been shot twice in the head and several times about the body.

Miss Danielson said she and Hahn were kidnapped late Thursday night as they sat in Hahn's car in front of a Denver apartment house only 10 blocks from the Mrs. John S. Doud residence where President Eisenhower is living this summer.

The "filthy" talking young killer, who later tried unsuccessfully to rape Miss Danielson, forced Hahn to drive for four hours before ordering them out of the car on a lonely road. He teased them by offering them freedom, but Miss Danielson said the two turned and ran.

"What's your hurry?" the cocky killer yelled. He then shot Hahn and made Miss Danielson aid him in dragging the body to a weed patch.

Ike's 'Blueprint' Swap

Given Okay In Principle By Bulganin In Message

DENVER, Sept. 23—UP—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin has said Russia "in principle" has no objections to President Eisenhower's exchange of military "blueprints" but that it does not go far enough was revealed Friday.

The Soviet premier also wrote Mr. Eisenhower that the President's proposal for swapping aerial military photographs should also include the overseas bases of both countries.

On the whole, the letter did not appear to indicate any major change in the Soviet position on disarmament.

It was revealed by administration officials here that Bulganin avoided accepting the two main points in the President's recent proposal at Geneva. But the Soviet leader's letter was not regarded as a complete rejection.

Bulganin said the President's proposal does not go to the main point of disarmament—control of atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Jury Returns Verdict After Hour Of Study

Kidnaping Charge Still Hangs Over Two Defendants

SUMNER, Miss., Sept. 23 (AP) — A Mississippi Delta jury today acquitted two white half - brothers in the slaying of a vacationing Chicago Negro boy in one hour and seven minutes.

The verdict came after three jury ballots.

It climaxed one of the most explosively tense American trials in years. The case stirred racial anger from northern Negro centers down into the heart of the Deep South.

A courtroom packed with Mississippi Delta residents took the verdict in orderly fashion, but with a loud exclamation.

The defendants, Roy Bryant, 24-year-old Money, Miss., general storekeeper, and his half-brother, John W. Milam, 38, were accused of the Aug. 28 kidnap-slaying of 14-year-old Emmett (Bobo) Till, a South Side Chicago boy.

A kidnap charge in an adjoining county still hangs over them.

The state called the murder a "cowardly act."

The defense cast doubt a body taken from the Tallahatchie River three days after the abduction really was Till's.

It could have been a racial "rabbi-rouser's plant," the defense argued.

The jury foreman said the issue of the body's identification was the chief motive behind its verdict.

Young Till was kidnapped from his uncle's cottonfield shack Aug. 28. Four days earlier, a Negro had indecently tried to date Bryant's wife, Carolyn, 21, and wolf-whistled at her.

In pre-trial statements, authorities offered the wolf-whistle incident at the Bryant store in the hamlet of Money as motive for the murder.

A gasp of released tension broke courtroom silence at the acquittal verdict. Then a wave of excited exclamation drove through the more than 300 persons in the room, most of them white.

There was no disorder, nor had there been any since the trial began Monday.

Juror No. 4, J. A. Haw, signalled the climax of the celebrated trial at 3:43 p.m. (CST) from inside the tiny jury room with its peeling paint. It was at the left front of the 45-year-old Tallahatchie County courthouse in Sumner.

After the jury came in, Shaw offered a simple "Not guilty."

Circuit Judge Curtis Swango refused to accept this wording. He sent the jury back. In a few minutes they returned with a verdict written in proper legal fashion. It ran:

"We the jury, find the defendants not guilty."

Milam and Bryant seemed impassive. Mrs. Bryant broke into a subdued smile and she and her husband clasped hands. Later, both couples embraced.

Shaw, one of nine cotton planters on the jury, was designated acting foreman by Judge Swango. Mississippi jurors do not pick their own chairmen. Women do not serve on a jury here. Negroes are eligible if they are registered voters but there are none in Tallahatchie County.

Shaw said the jury's decision was based on the state's failure to prove beyond reasonable doubt that it was young Till's body that was taken nude and mutilated from the Tallahatchie River last Aug. 31.

Report Fluorine In Water Causes Bone Hardening

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—UP—X-ray specialists said Friday minor and harmless bone changes among a few persons who have drunk heavily fluorinated water for many years have been discovered.

Two Temple, Tex., X-ray specialists, Dr. Clyde A. Stevenson and Ralph Watson reported their findings to the 56th annual meeting of the American Roentgen Ray Society here.

They said their X-rays showed bone hardening in a few patients, primarily from Texas and Oklahoma.

In Texas, there are more than 270 communities with fluorinated water supplies, and more than 50 such towns in Oklahoma, the specialists reported.

The possibility of other effects from fluorinated water also was indicated in their report.

"Ten years before the admission to the clinic, one patient was told she had 'leukemia of the bone' and would not live much longer," they said.

"At the last report she was well, has had no abnormal blood changes, but does have X-ray findings of fluoride-induced bone hardening."

Winnsboro Post Sets Membership Drive

WINNSBORO, Sept. 23—(Special)—Mark Butler, commander of the Winnsboro American Legion Post 84, announced that plans were underway for the organization's annual membership drive.

J. A. Sullivan was named chairman of the membership committee and the goal of the Winnsboro post is 200 members by November 11.

Plans were also made to sponsor an American Legion baseball team for next year. The post has not sponsored a team for the past two years but as there is plenty of talent available in Franklin parish an all-out effort will be made to put a team in the field in 1956.

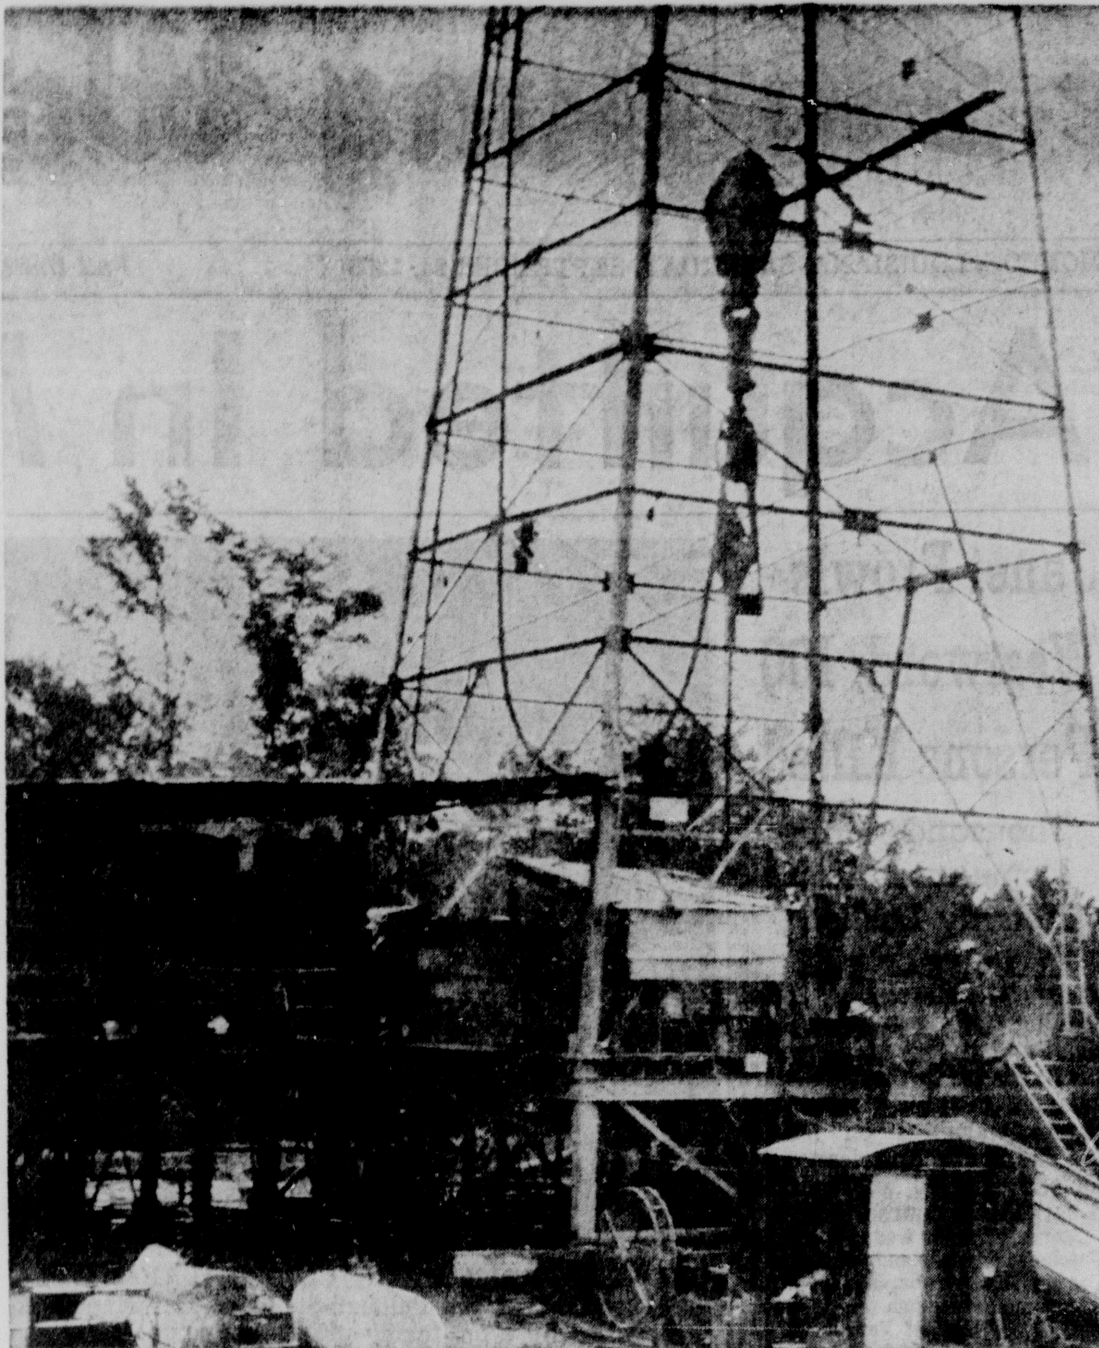

Kirby King will serve as chairman of the baseball team committee.

Edward Stanley Mitchell, 27-year-old truck driver of Monroe, suffered second and third degree burns of his left forearm and hand when a dump truck carrying hot mix asphalt went out of control approximately one mile north of Berwick on U. S. Highway 165 early yesterday.

Mitchell received the burns when the bed of the truck jarred loose and crashed into the cab, throwing hot asphalt on his hand and forearm.

Examination revealed that he suffered no internal injuries, according to an attending physician. He was taken to St. Francis hospital for treatment.

State police who investigated the accident said the truck was demolished.

20 Federal Judges Needed Urgently, Report Indicates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—The country's need for 20 additional federal judges is "very urgent," the Judicial Conference and Chief Justice Warren were informed in a report today.

The report came from Henry P. Chandler, director of the administrative office of the U. S. courts.

He noted the judicial conference had pointed out no action had been taken in either house of Congress although there were hearings before the judiciary committees.

The report included a recommendation for an additional federal judgeship each in southern Mississippi, eastern Louisiana and northern Texas.

DALLAS, Sept. 23—UP—Department store sales in the 11th federal reserve district were up an average of 10 per cent for the Jan. 1-Sept. 17 period, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas reported Friday.

The comparison was with a similar period a year ago, the bank said in its weekly survey.

Dallas, El Paso and San Antonio each had 11 per cent gains for the eight and one-half months period followed by Houston with an eight per cent increase and Fort Worth three per cent.

W. Monroe Boy, 17, Gets 5 Years In State Prison

A 17-year-old youth was sentenced yesterday in district court to serve five years at the Louisiana State Penitentiary on charges of armed robbery.

He is Rudolph Ainsworth, of West Monroe.

Earlier, Ainsworth, confessed to a part in the armed robbery of a Camp Polk Army sergeant on September 10 in West Monroe.

Two others a 21-year-old Monroe man and a Delhi youth were each sentenced this week to serve 10 years in the State Penitentiary in the same robbery.

In meting out sentence to the youth, Judge Garrett told Ainsworth that a much lighter sentence had been imposed on him because he was younger and did not have a record.

Judge Garrett added that good behavior would possibly have him in line for parole.

In other cases disposed of by Judge Garrett, Lee M. Henderson, 37, Route 3, Monroe received a penitentiary sentence of three years on charges of simple burglary of a route 3, restaurant.

A .16 gauge shotgun taken from the restaurant was found by Ouachita Parish deputies in the home of Henderson this week.

A Columbia man, 40-year-old Martin Lyke who is charged with three theft by check counts will be tried November 7.

Austin E. Funderburg, a second-offender on a drunk driving charge was given a compulsory jail sentence of 125 days by Judge Garrett plus a $400 fine or 20 days in default.

Once again, as in the past, Judge Garrett was faced by a number of persons charged with drunk driving.

He disposed of them readily by fining each of five persons $300 and costs or 90 days in default of payment.

They were: Carl H. Bell, George M. Oliver, Travis L. Brown, Ralph Hulet, also given a 60 day jail sentence on charges of simple escape, and Mack Will.

Homer Ray Flint and James Bryant, were each fined $100 and costs for simple battery.

Eugene Davis, Jr., and James W. Baily, charged with speeding, were each fined $50 and costs.

Six persons were each fined $25 and costs on charges of disturbing the peace.

They were: F. E. McMurrian, Robert Parker, Earnest Sanders, Lee H. Davenport, Clinton Fields and Curtis Mitchell.

Herman Hopkins, was sentenced to 30 days in jail for not having driver's license.

Three others were fined $25 and costs for operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. They were: Willie Williams, Jr., and Rubin Teal.

Two persons were each fined $25 and costs of court for reckless operation of a motor vehicle. They were: Herbert B. Winn and Cullen Martin.

Laboratory Staff Of Hospital Quits

HOUSTON, Sept. 23—UP—A dozen laboratory technicians quit their jobs at Jefferson Davis hospital Friday, but went back to work four hours later after hospital officials announced a three-point agreement.

Only two technicians would have been left on the job, although the 12 said they would stay for emergency work until they could be replaced.

The crisis was averted, however, when hospital officials promised to hire six more technicians as soon as they could be found. Officials also said they would provide for salary adjustments that recognize advanced training and experience, and would buy additional equipment and supplies for the laboratories.

The 12 technicians declared in their resignations that "we get only $250 a month whether we've been here five minutes or five years." They said they wanted "some kind of system for professional advancement and improvement."

JIMMIE DAVIS TO PERFORM

GREENSBURG — UP—Former Gov. Jimmie Davis and his band will perform at St. Helena parish's annual forest festival which starts here tomorrow. The program also includes forestry contests, dedication of parish tree farms and speeches by state and parish officials, including Dave Pearce, state commissioner of agriculture.

Farm Advisory Group Adjourns; Plans Not Given

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—UP—The administration's special farm advisory commission wound up a two-day meeting on skidding farm prices Friday but refused to say what action is proposed to meet the politically-potent issue.

A spokesman for the group, said only that it approved some courses of action, vetoed others and put off a decision on others until the commission's next regular meeting in December.

The spokesman declined to elaborate except to say that some of the possible moves discussed involved long-range action "over the next decade or so" while other proposals would be designed to meet the "more immediate" problem.

The advisory commission's December meeting will be held just before the return of Congress whose Democratic leaders have promised to give top priority to the price-cost squeeze on farmers.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson, the target of mounting Democrat attacks on the farm issue, has said he will put some "very specific" proposals before the new session of Congress. He has refused to discuss what form they may take.

The angry farm debate raged unabated Friday. Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the administration's own statistics on the status of the farmer shows that "the Republican farm policy has failed."

One Of Hottest Summers Ends; Heat Lingers On

BY UNITED PRESS

The summer of 1955, which will stand on the record books as one of the hottest in the nation's history, ended Friday.

A real wave was still hanging on in the South. But fall got off to a blustery start in Canada, where the worst autumn snow storm in five years blocked highways in southern Alberta.

Officially, summer was to bow out and fall was to begin at exactly 1:42 p.m. CST. This was the moment of autumnal equinox, when the center of the sun is directly over the equator.

Most of the nation was appropriately cool for the beginning of fall, with brisk Canadian air knitting as far south as the Texas Panhandle.

But summer heat stayed on in the Gulf States and Southwest desert. Highs of 99 were registered Thursday at Yuma, Ariz., and Needles, Calif., and temperatures were in the 90s as far north as southern Illinois and Indiana.

In Alberta, meanwhile, nearly five and a half inches of snow blocked highways and halted traffic in and around Calgary. The snow was whipped by 20-mile-per-hour winds and power lines were knocked down in nearby areas. At least one death was blamed on the storm.

Far to the south, a new hurricane churned through the Caribbean and the death toll of Hurricane Hilda continued to rise.

The new hurricane, dubbed Janet, was only a little more than a day old, but already carried 115-mile-per-hour winds. It raged through the sparsely-populated Windward Islands and was headed in the general direction of Central America Friday.

Temperatures in this country dropped into the 30s and low 40s in the Northern Great Plains, northern New England, and upper New York.

Red 'Improvements' May Cause Expansion Of U. S. Forces Above 137 Wings

Army Asks 3,000 Hike In Monthly Quotas For Draft

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 —UP—The Army has requested a 3,000 increase in monthly draft calls and a 16,000-man hike in overall strength to help train youthful volunteers under the new six-months reserve plan, it was disclosed Friday.

Defense officials said the request, which must be approved by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, will be "studied very much in detail." Wilson and other defense planners currently are trying to trim military manpower and spending.

The proposed increase in overall manpower would give the Army 1,043,000 men on June 30, 1956, compared with the present goal of 1,027,000 set under the cutback manpower program.

The Army has been taking 10,000 draftees a month in recent months. The Navy, beset by a shortage of volunteers, will start taking men at the same rate in November. If the Army request is approved, draft calls would rise to 23,000 men a month.

The administration's new program for pre-draft-age youths is scheduled to start Oct. 3. Under it, from 100,000 to 250,000 volunteers a year will take six months active training followed by 7½ years in the active reserve.

The program, limited to youths under 18½, is part of the administration's overall new compulsory program for creating a combat-ready reserve of 2.9 million officers and men by 1960.

Officials said the number of men actually needed to train the youthful reservists will depend on response to the six-months program.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 —UP—Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force vice chief of staff, said Friday the Air Force may expand its goal of 137 wings by mid-1957 if the Russian air force continues its "vast" improvement.

He also said Russia has built up a "sizeable" stockpile of atomic bombs and has placed "great emphasis" on ocean - spanning guided missiles. The Soviets have made "great progress" on missiles of lesser range, he said.

Comparing Soviet - American airpower, White told the Defense Orientation Conference Association that the Red air force has 20,000 combat planes and the United States "thousands less." He said the U.S. planes are better but that the Soviet are "vastly" improving theirs.

"The Joint Chiefs of Staff have concluded that for the time being" the 137-wing goal "will meet our needs," White said. "If the Soviets continue to make gains in quality we may have to think about more nearly matching their quantity."

The group addressed by White and other military officials is composed of 250 businessmen, publishers, educators and others participating in the Defense Department's semi - annual inspection tours for civilian leaders.

Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas told the group the United States "very shortly" will have a nuclear powered aircraft carrier. He said it will come "much quicker than you think." Previously some Navy officials spoke of atomic - powered surface ships by 1960.

White's hint of a possible increase in airpower could come as a jolt to defense budget planners who are seeking ways to cut military spending and help balance the budget.

Cancer Victim Found Shot To Death In Texas

KENEDY, Tex., Sept. 23 —UP—A 60-year old cancer victim who mysteriously disappeared from a Houston hotel last week was found shot to death here Thursday.

The victim was Douglas J. Saxe, a former New York man and employee of the Oil Trade Publishing Co., New Orleans, La.

Saxe was believed to have committed suicide. He was found shot in the head with a .32 caliber pistol, lying nearby, beside a railroad track.

Saxe registered at a Houston hotel last Aug. 27. A hotel doctor told police he appeared seriously ill and despondent. He disappeared from the hotel last Saturday.

Police found notes in his hotel room, addressed to Mrs. Douglas J. Saxe of New York, and a brother, Perry Saxe of Darien, Conn.

Police also found an open note that asked that "my body be given to research so someone else like me can be helped in time."

Psychiatrist's Wife Is Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23 —UP—An heiress who said her psychiatrist husband called her "a psychopath" has obtained a divorce. She testified he ground a cigarette in her neck.

Mrs. Antoinette B. Grant, 29, received an interlocutory decree yesterday, saying that Dr. Henry J. Grant, 42, compared her with his worst patients, and said "He couldn't stand to practice psychiatry at home."

Mrs. Grant testified he blacked her eye because she hadn't ironed the shirt he wanted. Then when she finally told him she was going to get a divorce, "he became angry and ground out a cigarette in my neck."

Mrs. Grant is the daughter of wealthy oilman-psychiatrist Dr. Maurus Boas.

Red Propaganda Floods America

A million pieces of communist mail from abroad are arriving in one great Southern port every month, and being entered and distributed illegally throughout the land. The port is New Orleans.

How many items of Red propaganda are being distributed monthly through all ports of entry into the United States, its hundreds of harbors and its thousands of miles of inland border, separating us from Mexico and Canada? Distributed in violation of the law?

Probably many millions. Yet nobody seems to know. We must find out.

What is the purpose behind this gigantic black market in communist literature now flooding America? Who underwrites the tremendous cost?

These are facts and questions raised in the light of the investigation conducted in New Orleans by Sen. James Eastland, of Mississippi, and his staff. The Senator heads the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, one of the most effective agencies guarding the liberties of every American—a distinguished Senator, fearless, forthright and fair.

The estimate of the tons of propaganda arriving in New Orleans was provided by Irving Fishman, deputy collector of customs in New York, a staunch patriot in a city where the taint of communism has pervaded the theater, the movies, the radio, television, and even such old and formerly venerated institutions as the New York Times—although, perhaps at local levels in that vast organization.

The taint of communism in New York has become so odiferous that the right of that city to speak for America as its literary and cultural and financial center is open to challenge from such new cities as Houston and Los Angeles—perhaps New Orleans.

Testifying before Sen. Eastland's subcommittee, Mr. Fishman explained that all propaganda from abroad must be labeled under a strict registry act of Congress, otherwise its entry is illegal.

This registry act is strictly complied with by the propaganda organizations of such countries as France, The Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Siam, and all other nations and powers in the "free world."

The stamp of registration is upon every piece of literature sent to the United States by these nations.

Yet with respect to this torrent of Red propaganda flooding the United States, the official said, "I have not seen a single piece labeled."

The witness blamed lack of personnel and funds in his department for the deluge.

He made a statement that should challenge the administration of President Eisenhower, the Congress, the Justice Department, the Post Office Department, the State Department—each and every one of them:

"I believe there is a very serious effort being made to blanket the United States with this mail. Much of it comes through registered agents, or is disseminated surreptitiously."

In other words, a vast distribution system is in effect, to blanket this propaganda into high schools, colleges, labor unions, churches, anywhere and everywhere that it might sap and destroy American concepts—so the witness said.

Illegal propaganda, flooding America by tons and tons, millions of enclosures that our patriotic and hard-working postmen carry to your door and mine—poison, inciting race and class hatred, seeking to foment overthrow of our government and institutions, the denial and dethronement of God and all human values, and the enthronement of the monstrous Bael worship of Marxism.

No wonder the Marxists scream and rage when a Congressional committee headed by a patriot such as Sen. Eastland exposes them in the pitiless light of truth. No wonder their pink and leftist apologists of radio and television and the movies and the press, now fortified by the Fund for the Republic, a $15,000,000 institution endowed by the Ford Foundation, which was one of the main heirs of old Henry Ford I, the rugged individualist, cry havoc against all probes.

Turn the chip up and the insects protest and cry havoc.

Prison Uprisings

Because there have been a score of uprisings in prisons since mid-January, resulting in death, injury and danger to guards seized as hostages, official concern over penal problems is growing.

Nebraska state penitentiary had four disturbances, three in one week. Two closely spaced riots in the Washington state penitentiary were troublesome. Other uprisings occurred in Texas, Massachusetts, North Carolina, Wyoming, Michigan, Nevada, New York and Rhode Island.

Investigations have disclosed some of the causes to be overcrowding, obsolete prison plants, idleness, political meddling, maladministration, mischief making of hardened criminals, failure to segregate those not amenable to adjustment, inadequate parole systems and complaints about food and treatment.

To these must be added what is perhaps the leading cause—a desire to be anywhere else than in jail.

There are 190,000 inmates of federal and state prisons in this country. Two million Americans are incarcerated every year for one reason or another. Some reforms in the prison system seem overdue. Reform, with accent on rehabilitation, is receiving top consideration in the wake of prison riots.

But some penologists are convinced that more privileges and better food for prisoners will merely spur discontent instead of allaying it. They hold that prisoners will never be satisfied as long as they are in jail.

New jet engines with powerful afterburners generate 150 decibels, a fury of sound equivalent to 1,500,000,000 people all talking at once. Nothing in man's experience approaches that intensity, says the National Geographic Society.

Ford Foundation's 'Republic'

There are several kinds of tax-free money but there is no category which permits political activity. The issue then is: What is a political activity?

The Fund for the Republic, established by the Ford Foundation which is fed by the profits of the Ford Motor Company, defines its own function as follows:

"The Fund for the Republic was established to deal with problems that exist today. It expects to spend its principal as fast as this can be judiciously done. It is not engaged in the support of long-term research. It is not interested in scholarship as such. Nor is it concerned with general education. Its efforts are focused on the immediate issues of civil liberties. When it engages in research, or sponsors it, the Fund is seeking to obtain answers to questions that are pressing now."

In a word, it is not a scholarly or research organization; it is not engaged in education or charity. It exists to deal with problems of the day.

Further in the report, the Fund specifies the problems of the day which concern it:

"A political party in this country has been identified with the 'enemy.' Those associated with this party have therefore come under suspicion as an imminent danger to the state. In view of the weapons now available and the examples of subversion that other countries have offered, the danger has seemed great, though often mysterious and intangible. It has appeared that the peril to the country could be dealt with only by methods that drastically departed from those which have characterized Anglo-American jurisprudence."

What is the name of the "political party that has been identified with the 'enemy'?" Obviously, it is the Communist Party, U.S.A. Are we to take it, from this statement, that the Ford Foundation has contributed $15 million to the Fund for the Republic to defend the Communist Party?

Apparently Robert Hutchins, who wrote the report from which I quote, surely could not have meant the Republican Party or the Democratic Party or even the Liberal Party, for it is only the Communist Party which has been identified with the "enemy." (The quotation marks are Hutchins's.) Further, we might ask: who is this "enemy?" Hutchins also leaves that name out, perhaps from coyness. Well, we know who the enemy is, because this country has been sorely taxed by him. The "enemy" is Soviet Russia and its agent in the United States is the Communist Party.

It might, in this connection, be of value to report the findings of the Australian Commission on this subject:

"Without communism, Soviet espionage could have no hope of success in this country and the existence here of Communists who were and are willing to act to the prejudice of Australia was the fundamental cause of the formation of our Security Service and necessitates its retention in its present role as a 'fourth service' essential to the security and defense of Australia."

So, Robert Hutchins, having stated the problem which faces the Fund for the Republic, proceeds to dodge it:

"The Fund for the Republic takes no position on these matters, beyond affirming its faith in the principles upon which our government is founded, as set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution."

Whereupon it sends investigators all over the country to discover what has been done to interfere with the free functioning of Communists in the United States. Some of these investigators have long been rejected by opponents of communism. With one exception, for instance, those who tried to contact me were objectionable to me both as persons and for their prior political activities. One is not required to receive in his home or at his office a person whom he would not ordinarily receive only because that person got a job with the Fund for the Republic.

What this report of the Fund for the Republic indicates to me, as a student of these problems and methods, is that the Fund, as an action organization, is attempting to use the $15 million that the Ford Foundation has given it, to take over the work of the Congressional committees and to smother all anti-Communist investigations and activities. If that is its intention, it will fail, for that is not its intention, why interfere with the Congressional committees? (Copyright, 1955, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Lobbyists Swell Ranks Of Pressures Brigade

Lobbyist recruits swelled the recorded ranks of the pressures brigade to more than 4,000 during the first session of the 84th Congress.

Registration figures compiled by Congressional Quarterly for 1955 showed 329 persons and organizations had registered under the Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act through Aug. 2, the date the first session adjourned. Eighteen more registrations had been filed as of Sept. 15.

If the post-adjournment registration rate continues, 1955 totals would approach the 413 registrants recorded in 1954.

The lobby law, enacted Aug. 2, 1946, requires all persons attempting to influence federal legislation to register with the Clerk of the House and the Secretary of the Senate. In the nine years between the date the law became effective and the date the first session adjourned, 4,013 persons and organizations registered as lobbyists. Two hundred and thirty registrations brought the total to 4,030 as of Sept. 15.

Many of the filings, however, are duplications. Of the 329 additions to the lobby rolls at adjournment time, for instance, only 221 were new registrants. The others had filed at least once prior to 1955. The breakdown of the 221: individuals, 178; law and public relations firms, 15; organizations, 28. Since adjournment, 15 individuals, no law and public relations firms, and three organizations have registered.

The one-year high was 731 in 1947, the first full year of the law's operation. The one-year low? 1952, when only 204 lobbyists registered. Lobbyists' wages and expenses varied as widely as their interests. In 1955, two organizations—the Committee for Broadening Congressional Bank Participation in Public Financing and the General Gas Committee—anticipated the most expenses, according to the records. Both groups estimated their expenses at $75,000.

Some individual lobbyists worked without pay; others said they would receive as much as $150 per day. The highest anticipated annual compensation was $25,000. That amount appeared on several registration forms.

The biggest 1955 team of lobbyists worked for the Cuban Sugar Growers Association and the National Cuban Sugar Mills Owners Association. Records showed 23 lobbyists were registered by the Washington law firm of Cleary, Gottlieb, Friendly & Ball and its New York affiliate, Cleary, Gottlieb, Friendly & Hamilton, on behalf of the sugar organizations.

Both Cuban sugar groups sought extension of the Sugar Act of 1948 with no change in the foreign and domestic sugar quotas. The quotas, in fact, were unchanged as of adjournment, but the House had passed a bill (HR 7030) to give domestic growers a bigger share of expanding U. S. consumption. Such results illustrate the fact that most lobbyists at the end of the session could report progress toward their sponsors' goals, but few could claim clear-cut victories. Most pressure campaigns, like that concerning sugar quotas, were expected to continue in 1956.

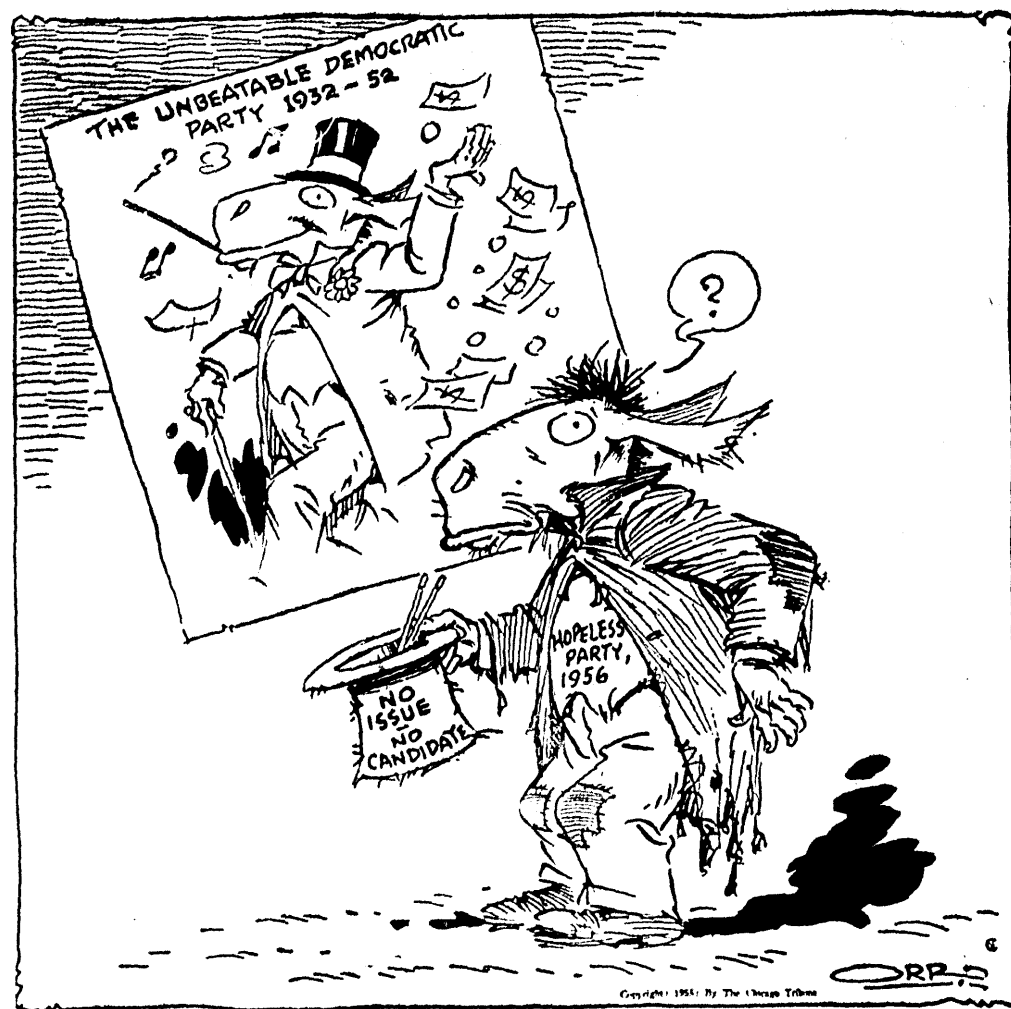

The lobby law itself continued to be criticized in 1955. It was, however, upheld in a Supreme Court decision of June 7, 1954, which defined lobbying as "direct communication with Congress."

Six former Congressmen were employed as lobbyists in 1955 to carry on that "direct communication." Registrations showed the ex-lawmakers and their sponsors included:

Ex-Rep. Robert A. Grant (R., Ind., 1939-49), Ethanol Institute, South Bend, Ind.; ex-Rep. William C. Lantaff (D., Ala., 1951-54), U. S. Cuban Sugar Council of Washington, D. C.; ex-Rep. Carter Manasco (D., Ala., 1941-49), Southern Pine Industry Committee of New Orleans, La.

An Educational Principle

In education we learn to discriminate between principles and devices. A principle is regarded as a rule that is not changed, but remains steadfast under all circumstances. It is like the rock upon which the wise man built his house.

A device is a method by which a principle—often difficult to establish—is approached. It is used to make acceptance of the principle easier. This is necessary in teaching the young ones, whose characters must first be seasoned by protective ways and means.

One of the principles of education that should be accepted by all parents and teachers is: show the child that he is important. He must be important to himself; feel important to his family and to his group. Only when he feels that what he is, what he does and the way he does it means something to those he cares about, can he put out his whole effort in growth. In short, people must care enough about him to show him they do. Then his whole being will be lighted by the power of its spirit.

It takes so little on the part of a father or mother or teacher to create that glow and the power it indicates. A caressing touch as he passes, a smile, a word of praise—and the thing is done. He knows he is liked, approved and in that atmosphere of spirit, he can do wonders.

I saw this work many times, but there was one occasion that marks the idea with a red letter. Rex was a handsome boy whose father and mother were so busy about their own concerns that they overlooked their son's need of them. They saw that he had the best of things, but they gave him so little of themselves as to starve his spirit. They scarcely knew him. In their presence he was a polite, aloof stranger and that, too, they scarcely knew.

In the fine school he attended, provided by his parents because it was the right thing to do, there was a gray-haired Irish matron who acted as a sort of mother to the lonely boys—and there were several of them in that school. In the presence of Mary Martha, Rex was a different boy. He had that inner glow. He laughed, he teased, he showed her his work and his reports, and she beamed on him with the warmest affection. She guided him, corrected him so gently in that soft Irish voice that while he accepted the criticism, he never felt a sting. Every chance he caught, he visited Mary Martha in her office and in her nearby cottage. One day his parents learned about the relationship and there was a row. "You're dropping that association at once. The idea . . . etc." Rex's glow died. Classwork went down and the spirit failed. The Head said, "He needs Mary Martha and she needs him. It's that . . . or else." It was that.

Love is the stimulant to child growth—to any worthwhile growth. It is the first principle in education.

Some children are very sensitive and afraid. Fear is like poison to the mind, and children who have fears suffer. How to guard against childhood fears is included in Dr. Ripley's leaflet P-1. Taxes For President

The first installment of former President Truman's memoirs has not yet been published, but their forthcoming publication points up that President Eisenhower evidently received a better income tax deal on "Crusade in Europe" than did his predecessor on the recollections of his long political career.

It is recalled here that when his tax counselors went into a huddle with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, then run by Truman appointee, General Eisenhower was given the advantage of an unusual arrangement by which rights to "Crusade in Europe" were sold as a "package deal," including both publication and movie rights.

The sale, for a reputed $1,000,000, was reportedly taxed on a capital gains basis, by which the government took only 25 per cent and the general received $750,000. Had he been compelled to pay regular income tax rates on a one year basis, his share would have been a mere $150,000.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue, which has since changed its name to Internal Revenue Service, made a public statement on the reasons for its decision, and explicitly said that no similar agreement would be made in future. The fact General Eisenhower had sold all rights, which meant that he retained no further interest in his literary work, was interpreted as being the same as sale of any other property, which placed him under the capital gains section of the act.

According to a statement at the time that former President Truman sold his memoirs to Life magazine for $600,000, the Internal Revenue Service, now headed by Eisenhower appointee, agreed to distribute the tax over a six year period, assuming that he would have spent that long in assembling and writing the manuscript. That would reduce the tax to an estimated $338,000. On a one year basis, the tax would have been $503,000, and he would have netted but $97,000. Now he will have an estimated $222,000 for his work. Had he been given the same ruling made for Eisenhower his return would have been $450,000.

There has been no word of complaint from Independence, Mo., but some of Truman's Democratic friends are grumbling that under his administration, Eisenhower paid only one fourth of the return from his work in taxes, while under the Eisenhower administration, the former Democratic president received under 45 per cent after taxes.

At the time of the Eisenhower deal, there were unconfirmed reports that the proposed tax arrangement had been put up to the White House for approval, and that Truman had said it was fine with him. But the statement that the Internal Revenue Service regarded the Eisenhower deal as a special case and that it would not be extended to other authors seems to have been made a precedent, precluding the same consideration for Truman.

The incident is not calculated to lessen a breach with only one precedent in modern political history between a president and his predecessor, who once were friends. Former President Truman is reliably reported in 1945 to have told General Eisenhower, then Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces in Europe, that he would help the general obtain any honor he might seek and "that definitely and specifically includes the Presidency in 1948."

Later President Truman elevated General Eisenhower to be Chief of Staff of the Army, and in 1950 picked him to take command of the new Allied forces in Europe.

Their friendship ended in 1952, when Eisenhower made his decision to seek the Republican nomination for President. That began the most bitter feud between two old friends of Republican stature since former President Theodore Roosevelt and President William Howard Taft split in 1910. They divided the Republican party between them, and the Democratic party, with Woodrow Wilson as its candidate, won the presidency and the Congress.

This latest feud will be carried into the 1956 presidential campaign. It may become spectacular, for Harry S. Truman doesn't pull any punches when he attacks someone he doesn't like.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Clarence's tragedy is duplicated in every community. To stop it, please remember that people don't seek a fire escape unless there is a fire. So eliminate the inner emotional torment and it is often easy to break the liquor habit. For it is usually an escape mechanism into temporary oblivion.

Case P-348: Clarence J., aged

47, is a brilliant attorney who is now losing his practice because of chronic alcoholism.

"Dr. Crane, what can I do to help him?" his wife asked and began to cry as she spoke. "He has a wonderful mind. But he is going to pieces and it is all because of alcohol."

"I've tried to get him to quit, but he gets drunk again within a few days. A friend of his who belongs to Alcoholics Anonymous has invited him to join their group, but he refuses to do so."

"It seems such a shame to watch a brilliant mind go to destruction, and besides, I love him, so please show me how to help him."

Alcoholics Anonymous has done a great job of rehabilitating chronic drunks, like Clarence.

But its members find they can't do much for a victim unless he personally solicits their help and is willing to admit that liquor has him whipped.

If a drinker says glibly, "Oh, I can quit any time I want to," they know he can't. That's conceit and whistling in the dark.

But for every dramatic victory by A.A. the liquor industry is causing dozens of new chronic drunks, thereby destroying happy homes, terrifying innocent children, and bringing the aged parents of the victims to their graves in sorrow and shame.

We physicians and psychologists can help salvage drunks, however, it is much more difficult when they don't ask us to do so, but their wives and other relatives hope to produce the change for them.

We have drugs that we can give the drunkard which will make him deathly sick as soon as he drinks liquor.

And we can help build up his nutrition, for chronic drunks are often low in vitamins and undernourished.

Sometimes the relatives forcibly have the drunk taken to a sanitarium where he can be helped even against his will.

But such help is much like shock treatment of the insane, for it is palliative and seldom gets to the root of the original dilemma that drove him to seek oblivion via whiskey.

In psychology, we describe chronic alcoholism as comparable to a fire escape from a burning building. It isn't smart to tear down the fire escape while people are inside the flaming dwelling, for they may then plunge headlong through a window to their death.

Similarly, to nauseate a drinker by use of certain drugs, may tear away his emotional outlet (fire escape), but if the basic inner torment is still unresolved, he may commit suicide or seek oblivion via dope.

So try to relieve the tension of his inner emotional conflict. In men of Clarence's age, this is often based on terror of impotence.

In a later interview with Clarence, I found that he had taken testosterone shots for months, to no avail, for his impotence was about the eyes, as it usually is, so then he fled into liquor.

When his wife learned this fact and began to take a more aggressive role in their love life, she banished his impotence and thus removed the basic cause for his drunkenness.

It isn't very difficult to stop alcoholism after this inner torment is relieved and eliminated. For we don't seek fire escapes unless there is a fire.

Send for my booklet "Facts about Alcoholism," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long three cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Red Propaganda Floods America

A million pieces of communist mail from abroad are arriving in one great Southern port every month, and being entered and distributed illegally throughout the land.

The port is New Orleans.

How many items of Red propaganda are being distributed monthly through all ports of entry into the United States, its hundreds of harbors and its thousands of miles of inland border, separating us from Mexico and Canada? Distributed in violation of the law?

Probably many millions. Yet nobody seems to know. We must find out.

What is the purpose behind this gigantic black market in communist literature now flooding America? Who underwrites the tremendous cost?

These are facts and questions raised in the light of the investigation conducted in New Orleans by Sen. James Eastland, of Mississippi, and his staff. The Senator heads the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, one of the most effective agencies guarding the liberties of every American—a distinguished Senator, fearless, forthright and fair.

The estimate of the tons of propaganda arriving in New Orleans was provided by Irving Fishman, deputy collector of customs in New York, a staunch patriot in a city where the taint of communism has pervaded the theater, the movies, the radio, television, and even such old and formerly venerated institutions as the New York Times—although, perhaps at local levels in that vast organization.

The taint of communism in New York has become so odiferous that the right of that city to speak for America as its literary and cultural and financial center is open to challenge from such new cities as Houston and Los Angeles—perhaps New Orleans.

Testifying before Sen. Eastland's subcommittee, Mr. Fishman explained that all propaganda from abroad must be labeled under a strict registry act of Congress, otherwise its entry is illegal.

This registry act is strictly complied with by the propaganda organizations of such countries as France, The Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Siam, and all other nations and powers in the "free world."

The stamp of registration is upon every piece of literature sent to the United States by these nations.

Yet with respect to this torrent of Red propaganda flooding the United States, the official said, "I have not seen a single piece labeled."

The witness blamed lack of personnel and funds in his department for the deluge.

He made a statement that should challenge the administration of President Eisenhower, the Congress, the Justice Department, the Post Office Department, the State Department—each and every one of them:

"I believe there is a very serious effort being made to blanket the United States with this mail. Much of it comes through registered agents, or is disseminated surreptitiously."

In other words, a vast distribution system is in effect, to blanket this propaganda into high schools, colleges, labor unions, churches, anywhere and everywhere that it might sap and destroy American concepts—so the witness said.

Illegal propaganda, flooding America by tons and tons, millions of enclosures that our patriotic and hard-working postmen carry to your door and mine—poison, inciting race and class hatred, seeking to foment overthrow of our government and institutions, the denial and dethronement of God and all human values, and the enthronement of the monstrous Babel worship of Marxism.

No wonder the Marxists scream and rage when a Congressional committee headed by a patriot such as Sen. Eastland exposes them in the pitiless light of truth. No wonder their pink and leftist apologists of radio and television and the movies and the press, now fortified by the Fund for the Republic, a $15,000,000 institution endowed by the Ford Foundation, which was one of the main heirs of old Henry Ford I, the rugged individualist, cry havoc against all probes.

Turn the chip up and the insects protest and cry havoc.

Prison Uprisings

Because there have been a score of uprisings in prisons since mid-January, resulting in death, injury and danger to guards seized as hostages, official concern over penal problems is growing.

Nebraska state penitentiary had four disturbances, three in one week. Two closely spaced riots in the Washington state penitentiary were troublesome. Other uprisings occurred in Texas, Massachusetts, North Carolina, Wyoming, Michigan, Nevada, New York and Rhode Island.

Investigations have disclosed some of the causes to be overcrowding, obsolete prison plants, idleness, political meddling, maladministration, mischief making of hardened criminals, failure to segregate those not amenable to adjustment, inadequate parole systems and complaints about food and treatment.

To these must be added what is perhaps the leading cause—a desire to be anywhere else than in jail.

There are 190,000 inmates of federal and state prisons in this country. Two million Americans are incarcerated every year for one reason or another. Some reforms in the prison system seem overdue. Reform, with accent on rehabilitation, is receiving top consideration in the wake of prison riots.

But some penologists are convinced that more privileges and better food for prisoners will merely spur discontent instead of allaying it. They hold that prisoners will never be satisfied as long as they are in jail.

New jet engines with powerful afterburners generate 150 decibels, a fury of sound equivalent to 1,500,000,000 people all talking at once. Nothing in man's experience approaches that intensity, says the National Geographic Society.

Ford Foundation's 'Republic'

There are several kinds of tax-free money but there is no category which permits political activity. The issue then is: What is a political activity?

The Fund for the Republic, established by the Ford Foundation which is fed by the profits of the Ford Motor Company, defines its own function as follows:

"The Fund for the Republic was established to deal with problems that exist today. It expects to spend its principal as fast as this can be judiciously done. In short, people must care enough about him to show him they do. Then his whole being will be lighted by the power of its spirit.

It takes so little on the part of a father or mother or teacher to create that glow and the power it indicates. A caressing touch as he passes, a smile, a word of praise—and the thing is done. He knows he is liked, approved and in that atmosphere of spirit, he can do wonders.

I saw this work many times, but there was one occasion that marks the idea with a red letter. Rex was a handsome boy whose father and mother were so busy about their own concerns that they overlooked their son's need of them. They saw that he had the best of things, but they gave him so little of themselves as to starve his spirit. They scarcely knew him. In their presence he was a polite, aloof stranger and that, too, they scarcely knew.

In the fine school he attended, provided by his parents because it was the right thing to do, there was a gray-haired Irish matron who acted as a sort of mother to the lonely boys—and there were several of them in that school. In the presence of Mary Martha, Rex was a different boy. He had that inner glow. He laughed, he teased, he showed her his work and his reports, and she beamed on him with the warmest affection. She guided him, corrected him so gently in that soft Irish voice that while he accepted the criticism, he never felt a sting. Evidently, he caught, he visited Mary Martha in her office and in her nearby cottage. One day his parents learned about the relationship, and there was a row. "You're to drop that association at once. The idea . . . etc." Rex's glow died. Classroom went down and the spirit faded. The Head said, "He needs Mary Martha and she needs him. It's that . . . or else." It was that.

Taxes For President

The first installment of former President Truman's memoirs has not yet been published, but their forthcoming publication points up that President Eisenhower evidently received a better income tax deal on "Crusade in Europe" than did his predecessor on the recollections of his long political career.

It is recalled here that when his tax counselors went into a huddle with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, then run by Truman appointees, General Eisenhower was given the advantage of an unusual arrangement by which rights to "Crusade in Europe" were sold as a "package deal," including both publication and movie rights.

The sale, for a reputed $1,000,000, was reportedly taxed on a capital gains basis, by which the government took only 25 per cent and the general received $750,000. Had he been compelled to pay regular income tax rates on a one year basis, his share would have been a mere $150,000.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue, which has since changed its name to Internal Revenue Service, made a public statement on the reasons for its decision, and explicitly said that nonsimilarity agreement would be made in future. The fact General Eisenhower had sold all rights, which meant that he retained no further interest in his literary work, was interpreted as being the same as sale of any other property, which placed him under the capital gains section of the act.

According to a statement at the time that former President Truman sold his memoirs to Life magazine for $600,000, the Internal Revenue Service, now headed by Eisenhower appointees, agreed to distribute the tax over a six year period, assuming that he would have spent that long in assembling and writing the manuscript. That would reduce the tax to an estigrowth—to any worthwhile growth. It is the first principle in education.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Clarence's tragedy is duplicated in every community. To stop it, please remember that people don't seek a fire escape unless there is a fire. So eliminate the inner emotional torment and it is often easy to break the liquor habit. For it is usually an escape mechanism into temporary oblivion.

Case P-348: Clarence J., aged

47, is a brilliant attorney who is now losing his practice because of chronic alcoholism.

"Dr. Crane, what can I do to help him?" his wife asked and began to cry as she spoke.

"He has a wonderful mind. But he is going to pieces and it is all because of alcohol."

"I've tried to get him to quit, but he gets drunk again within a few days. A friend of his who belongs to Alcoholics Anonymous has invited him to join their group, but he refuses to do so."

"It seems such a shame to watch a brilliant mind go to destruction, and besides, I love him, so please show me how to help him."

Alcoholics Anonymous has done a great job of rehabilitating chronic drunks, like Clarence.

But its members find they can't do much for a victim unless he personally solicits their help and is willing to admit that liquor has him whipped.

If a drinker says glibly, "Oh, I can quit any time I want to," they know he can't. That's conceit and whistling in the dark.

But for every dramatic victory by A.A. the liquor industry is causing dozens of new chronic drunks, thereby destroying happy homes, terrifying innocent children, and bringing the aged parents of the victims to their graves in sorrow and shame.

We physicians and psychologists can help salvage drunks, however, it is much more difficult when they don't ask us to do so, but their wives and other relatives hope to produce the change for them.

We have drugs that we can give the drunkard which will make him deathly sick as soon as he drinks liquor.

And we can help build up his nutrition, for chronic drunks are often low in vitamins and undernourished.

Sometimes the relatives forcibly have the drunk taken to a sanitarium where he can be helped even against his will.

But such help is much like shock treatment of the insane, for it is palliative and seldom gets to the root of the original dilemma that drove him to seek oblivion via whiskey.

In psychology, we describe chronic alcoholism as comparable to a fire escape from a burning building.

It isn't smart to tear down the fire escape while people are inside the flaming dwelling, for they may then plunge headlong through a window to their death.

Similarly, to nauseate a drinker by use of certain drugs, may tear away that emotional outlet (fire escape), but if the basic inner torment is still unresolved, he may commit suicide or seek oblivion via dope.

So try to relieve the tension of his inner emotional conflict. In men of Clarence's age, this is often based on terror of impotence.

In a later interview with Clarence, I found that he had taken testosterone shots for months, to no avail, for his impotence was above the eyes, as it usually is, so then he fled into liquor.

When his wife learned this fact and began to take a more aggressive role in their love life, she banished his impotence and thus removed the basic cause for his drunkenness.

It isn't very difficult to stop alcoholism after this inner torment is relieved and eliminated. For we don't seek fire escapes unless there is a fire.

So send for my booklet "Facts about Alcoholism," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long three cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

More Preference Primaries Set In Presidential Race

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—More voters than ever before will have an opportunity next spring to take part directly in the presidential nominating process.

Between March 13 and June 5, both parties will hold presidential primary elections in 18 states, Alaska and the District of Columbia to pick delegates to the August national conventions or express nomination choices or both. A 19th state, Alabama, will probably confine its primary voting to the Democrats.

In 1952, both parties held primaries in only 15 states, and Democratic primaries only were held in Alabama, Florida and the District of Columbia.

A survey by the Republican National Committee research staff today showed that since the 1952 election, two more states—Indiana and Montana—and Alaska and the District of Columbia have adopted presidential primary laws, and Florida enacted a revised law.

Nevada passed a law in 1953 providing for direct election of pledged national convention delegates, but repealed it this year without giving the system a chance to operate, the survey showed.

In nonprimary states, national convention delegates are selected in state and district conventions and in a few instances by party committees.

No two presidential primary laws are alike. Some provide for election of definitely pledged delegates. Under others, delegates may be pledged or not. Still others provide for presidential preference or popularity contests where the people vote directly on presidential choices as well as for delegate candidates.

Next year, delegate candidates will be or may be pledged in a dozen of the primary states.

Here are the dates for next year's presidential primaries:

March 13, New Hampshire; March 20, Minnesota; April 3, Wisconsin; April 10, Illinois; April 17, New Jersey; April 24, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Alaska; May 1, District of Columbia; May 7, Maryland; May 8, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia; May 15, Nebraska; May 18, Oregon; May 29, Florida; June 5, California, Montana, New York, South Dakota.

During the year of 1827, the 2,000 residents of Wilbraham, Mass., consumed 8,000 gallons of rum.

Crime In Texas Showing Steady Climb For 1955

AUSTIN, Sept. 23—UP—Major crime increased an estimated 6 per cent in Texas during the first six months of 1955, the Department of Public Safety reported Friday.

Rural areas paced the way with an overall climb of 12.8 per cent in the crime rate, far above the 4.3 per cent increase tallied by the cities.

The comparison was based on reports covering the similar period in 1954.

For Texas as a whole, murder and homicide decreased an estimated 19.2 per cent. However, rape increased 25 per cent, as compared with a 13.1 per cent gain in aggravated assaults, 8.4 per cent in thefts and 5.6 per cent in burglaries. Robbery was down 9.4 per cent, while auto thefts showed a 6.5 per cent decrease.

Farm areas, as contrasted with urban groups, showed an increase in all crime classifications except murder and homicide. It was down 22.7 per cent. However, rape in the rural areas was up 56.2 per cent. Other classifications showed increases of: robbery, up 28.4 per cent; burglary, 12.2 per cent; aggravated assault, 10 per cent; theft, 12.3 per cent, and auto theft, 13.1 per cent.

In the cities, including towns of more than 2,500 population, murder and homicide dropped 15.3 per cent; rape was down 8.9 per cent; robbery 21.9 per cent, and auto theft 10.3 per cent. However, aggravated assaults showed a 15.4 per cent increase. Theft was up 7.8 per cent, and burglary showed a 3.7 per cent gain.

issue of identification. In summing up today, defense counsel John Whitten offered a theory that rabble rousers put a Negro body, dead some days, in the river, and falsely ballyhooed it as Till's. The defense said the body's condition indicated it had been dead some time beyond the three days Till had been missing.

Special Prosecutor Robert Smith III said the crime, if unpunished, would endanger the South's "way of life."

He conceded "we have outsiders coming in and disrupting our way of life," but Smith insisted the body had been identified by the boy's mother and further identified by the ring it bore—a ring young Till inherited from his father.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley, was not in court for the verdict. The young sons of Bryant and Milam also were absent for the climax.

The Bryant boys, 2 and 3, and the Milam boys, 2 and 4, perched on their fathers' knees and frolicked in the courtroom the first two days of the trial.

Judge Swango, at the request of the state, dismissed kidnapping indictments against Bryant and Milam. He said Tallahatchie County had jurisdiction in Till's murder, but not in his abduction. The body was found in Tallahatchie County. Money, scene of the kidnapping, is in adjoining Leflore County.

The pair were turned over to Leflore County Sheriff George Smith. They have been formally charged there with kidnapping, but the case has not gone to the grand jury. Bryant and Milam are expected to gain freedom on bond while Leflore County decides whether to try them on kidnapping, a less serious charge here than murder.

Shortly after Till's abduction, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, called the slaying a "new style of lynching."

Gov. Hugh White replied it was murder, not lynching. From there the argument snowballed into an avalanche of letters to principals in the case and officials, most of them reflecting extreme racial antagonism.

The state never specifically asked for a verdict which would be murder, not lynching. Instead, the state merely cited the penal verdicts possible—guilty with death or guilty with life imprisonment.

Neither man took the witness stand in his own defense. There was no compulsion for them to do so under the law.

As photographers and cameramen surrounded the defendants and their attractive wives after the verdict, Milam gave 27-year-old Juan

MRS. BRYANT RESTS AFTER TESTIFYING—Pretty Mrs. Carolyn Bryant rests her head on the shoulder of her husband, Roy Bryant, in the court room at Sumner, Miss., after testifying in the trial of Bryant and his half-brother, J. W. Milam, charged with murdering Emmett Till. ita Milam a long, forceful kiss. Bryant hesitated until photographers induced him to kiss his wife, too.

Neither man offered any comment at the moment.

Mrs. Milam said she was happy, and Mrs. Bryant with her small, radiant smile declared:

"I'm very happy. I feel a lot better than I did yesterday on the witness stand."

The case went to the jury at 2:36 p.m. (CST).

The trial lasted five days. Just before the case went to the jury, defense attorney John Whitten said: "There are people in the United States who want to destroy the custom and way of life of southern white people and southern colored people."

"There are people out to put us at odds who are willing to go as far as possible, to commit any crime to widen the gap between us."

"If these people had the opportunity to create a commotion, to stir up a trial such as this and focus national attention on the strained relations here, they would do it."

Whitten then offered the theoretical possibility the body of another Negro could have been thrown into the river and passed off as Till. "I don't know that happened," he said. "I do know that it is well in the realm of possibility."

Ending state arguments, Robert Smith III said: "I tell you, gentlemen, that Emmett Till was entitled to his constitutional rights, he was entitled to his liberty and once we go taking away his rights then we are on the defensive and we can't complain what people do to us."

"Those people (outside agitators) want J. W. Milam and Roy Bryant turned loose. If they're convicted those people are silenced. They can't say the state of Mississippi didn't do its duty."

Summing up, the state called the murder of Till "a cowardly act." Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham said the worst the boy deserved, if he insulted white womanhood was "a little beating" with a razor strap.

Young Till was on the fifth day of a Mississippi vacation when he allegedly entered Bryant's general store at Money and found Mrs. Bryant alone.

She never identified the Negro in the store by name during testimony yesterday that was ruled inadmissible to the jury.

She said "a Negro man" entered the store and seized her by the hand and later by the waist. She quoted him as saying as she struggled with him:

"How about a date, baby? ... What's the matter, baby? Can't you take it. ... You needn't be afraid of me."

Houston, Irving Schools To Face Legislative Probe

AUSTIN, Sept. 23—UP—Subcommittees to investigate the Houston and Irving school systems were named Friday by the chairman of the House general investigating committee.

Chairman Wade F. Spilman Jr., McAllen representative, named Reps. Regan Huffman of Marshall and Jack Welch of Marlin to conduct an inquiry into the Houston School system.

Reps. Scott McDonald of Fort Worth and Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe were named to the subcommittee to investigate the Irving school system.

The Houston system was sharply criticized by the National Education Association after an investigation was set off by the firing of a deputy superintendent. Irving teachers walked out last February after the superintendent there was fired. He later was rehired.

Most of Minnesota's 14,800 Indians live in 13 reservations and communities in the northern part of the state. However, more and more young adults leave to find better jobs.

The house, we are told, is to be dismantled and when the site is cleared, it is expected that the Lion Oil company will erect a filling station on the site.

The Monroe Maternity clinic plans to raise needed funds and will have a card party conducted in the St. Matthew's gymnasium Monday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Sam Hodges is president of the clinic group and Mrs. George Tonore is chairman of the party, with Mrs. Ted Mahr, vice-chairman.

The public is urged to attend and to help a most worthy cause.

A stranger in town stopped an elderly man and asked how to get to a certain street. "Go right ahead and it is the first street on your left," the man accosted stated.

The man thanked him and then the informant, getting a sudden hunch, called after him. "Now, if you are left handed, just turn the other way!"

Flowers, perfume and lingerie were quite evident in the pile of packages a local man had assembled in his arms and he was by no means youthful.

"What on earth are you doing with all that stuff? Don't you remember you are a middle-aged man?" a friend declared when he met the second person.

"I'm doing all right," came the reply. "Some men at my age are seeking greener pastures, but for me, well, I decided to cultivate the one I already have."

Samuel H. Kress, monogamian, originator and operator of a vast system of chain stores, one of which is in Monroe, died in New York City Thursday.

He had visited Monroe not so long ago but, extremely modest, he did not permit his visits to any of his stores to be publicized. In accord with this policy he came here, made an inspection and departed with only a very few knowing of his presence.

It is told of him that he started life as newsboy, but as owner of 250 nickel and dime stores, he became philanthropically inclined,

Graham Draws 9,500 People At Toronto Talk

TORONTO, Sept. 23—U. S. Evangelist Billy Graham drew a crusade audience of 9,500 to the Coliseum in the Canadian National Exhibition Grounds last night.

The attendance brought the five-day total to 41,500. The Greater Toronto Crusade will continue until Oct. 16. Graham will be in Ottawa for one night early next month and will return here to complete his engagement.

When Graham asked the crowd to accept Christ, 207 persons stepped forward, bringing to 591 the total "decisions for Christ" in the current campaign.

About 10,800 rural persons were killed in collisions between motor vehicles in 1953.

Jail Prisoners Get Late Meals—Cook At Movie

CONROE, Tex., Sept. 23—UP—Montgomery county jail prisoners got a late breakfast Friday—all because the cook decided to go to a show.

The cook was U. V. Cox, 34, under a two-year burglary sentence. He got official permission to leave the jail Thursday and take in a show.

Somehow, the report got out that he had broken out of jail and was wounded in a gunfight at Houston.

"The only thing I was armed with was a bottle of gin and $20 I borrowed from Justice of the Peace (C. K.) McDaniel," Cox explained. He said he went to Houston to see his wife, but got into a fight with his sister-in-law.

The sister-in-law swore out a complaint for aggravated assault. Cox later called his wife from a tavern and told her he had been shot. Sheriff's deputies went to the tavern, where they found Cox. He wasn't shot.

CLAIMS REWARD

SAN MATEO, Calif. —UP—Mrs. Elsie Humberg lost her wallet and $32 in a supermarket. She asked a man if he had seen it. The man took a wallet out of his pocket and asked Mrs. Humberg if it was hers. She smiled in delight. It was.

"I guess I'm entitled to a reward," the man said. He removed $25 from the wallet, handed the wallet to Mrs. Humberg and drove off in his car.

Crime In Texas Showing Steady Climb For 1955

AUSTIN, Sept. 23—UP—Major crime increased an estimated 6 per cent in Texas during the first six months of 1955, the Department of Public Safety reported Friday.

Rural areas paced the way with an overall climb of 12.8 per cent in the crime rate, far above the 4.3 per cent increase tallied by the cities.

The comparison was based on reports covering the similar period in 1954.

For Texas as a whole, murder and homicide decreased an estimated 19.2 per cent. However, rape increased 25 per cent, as compared with a 13.1 per cent gain in aggravated assaults, 8.4 per cent in thefts and 5.6 per cent in burglaries. Robbery was down 9.4 per cent, while auto thefts showed a 6.5 per cent decrease.

Farm areas, as contrasted with urban groups, showed an increase in all crime classifications except murder and homicide. It was down 22.7 per cent. However, rape in the rural areas was up 56.2 per cent. Other classifications showed increases of: robbery, up 28.4 per cent; burglary, 12.2 per cent; aggravated assault, 10 per cent; theft, 12.3 per cent, and auto theft, 13.1 per cent.

In the cities, including towns of more than 2,500 population, murder and homicide dropped 15.3 per cent; rape was down 8.9 per cent; robbery 21.9 per cent, and auto theft 10.3 per cent. However, aggravated assaults showed a 15.4 per cent increase. Theft was up 7.8 per cent, and burglary showed a 3.7 per cent gain.

MORRISTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—When Alderman Seymour Gerson was elected on an economy platform, he apparently meant it. Rather than vote for a $100 appropriation for Morristown's annual clean-up, Gerson said at a board meeting that he would donate $10 personally. Undaunted, the other city fathers voted to appropriate the other $90, Gerson voting "no."

Bryant, Milam

Issue of identification. In summing up today, defense counsel John Whitten offered a theory that rabble rousers put a Negro body, dead some days, in the river, and falsely ballyhooed it as Till's. The defense said the body's condition indicated it had been dead some time beyond the three days Till had been missing.

Special Prosecutor Robert Smith III said the crime, if unpunished, would endanger the South's "way of life."

He conceded "we have outsiders coming in and disrupting our way of life," but Smith insisted the body had been identified by the boy's mother and further identified by the ring it bore — a ring young Till inherited from his father.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley, was not in court for the verdict. The young sons of Bryant and Milam also were absent for the climax.

The Bryant boys, 2 and 3, and the Milam boys, 2 and 4, perched on their fathers' knees and looked in the courtroom the first two days of the trial.

Judge Swango, at the request of the state, dismissed kidnapping indictments against Bryant and Milam. He said Tallahatchie County had jurisdiction in Till's murder, but not in his abduction. The body was found in Tallahatchie County. Money, scene of the kidnapping, is in adjoining Leflore County.

The pair were turned over to Leflore County Sheriff George Smith. They have been formally charged there with kidnapping, but the case has not gone to the grand jury. Bryant and Milam are expected to gain freedom on bond while Leflore County decides whether to try them on kidnapping, a less serious charge here than murder.

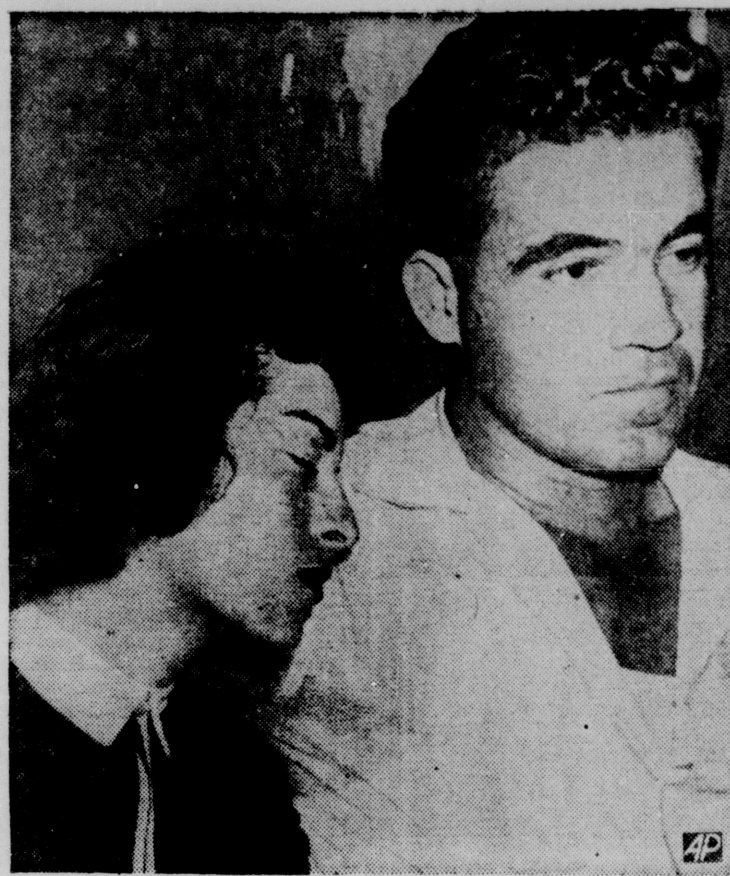

Shortly after Till's abduction, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, called the slaying a "new style of lynching."

Gov. Hugh White replied it was murder, not lynching. From there the argument snowballed into an avalanche of letters to principals in the case and officials, most of them reflecting extreme racial antagonism.

The state never specifically asked for a verdict which would have sent Bryant and Milam to Mississippi's gas chamber. Instead, the state merely cited the penal verdicts possible — guilty with death or guilty with life imprisonment.

Neither man took the witness stand in his own defense. There was no compulsion for them to do so under the law.

As photographers and cameramen surrounded the defendants and their attractive wives after the verdict, Milam gave 27-year-old Juan ita Milam a long, forceful kiss. Bryant hesitated until photographers induced him to kiss his wife, too.

MRS. BRYANT RESTS AFTER TESTIFYING—Pretty Mrs. Carolyn Bryant rests her head on the shoulder of her husband, Roy Bryant, in the court room at Sumner, Miss., after testifying in the trial of Bryant and his half-brother, J. W. Milam, charged with murdering Emmett Till. She testified that a Negro with a "northern brogue" grabbed her hand, hugged her around the waist and asked her for a date a few days before Till was kidnaped Aug. 28. (AP Wirephoto)

Neither man offered any comment at the moment.

Mrs. Milam said she was happy, and Mrs. Bryant with her small, radiant smile declared:

"I'm very happy. I feel a lot better than I did yesterday on the witness stand."

The case went to the jury at 2:36 p.m. (CST).

The trial lasted five days.

Just before the case went to the jury, defense attorney John Whitten said: "There are people in the United States who want to destroy the custom and way of life of southern white people and southern colored people."

"There are people out to put us at odds who are willing to go as far as possible, to commit any crime to widen the gap between us."

"If these people had the opportunity to create a commotion, to stir up a trial such as this and focus national attention on the strained relations here, they would do it."

Whitten then offered the theoretical possibility the body of another Negro could have been thrown into the river and passed off as Till.

"I don't know that happened," he said, "I do know that it is well in the realm of possibility."

Ending state arguments, Robert Smith III said: "I tell you, gentlemen, that Emmett Till was entitled to his constitutional rights, he was entitled to his liberty and once we go taking away his rights then we are on the defensive and we can't complain what people do to us."

"Those people (outside agitators) want J. W. Milam and Roy Bryant turned loose. If they're convicted those people are silenced. They can't say the state of Mississippi didn't do its duty."

Summing up, the state called the murder of Till "a cowardly act." Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham said the worst boy he deserved, if he insulted white womanhood was "a little beating" with a razor strap.

Young Till was on the fifth day of a Mississippi vacation when he allegedly entered Bryant's general store at Money and found Mrs. Bryant alone.

She never identified the Negro in the store by name during testimony yesterday that was ruled inadmissible to the jury.

She said "a Negro man" entered the store and seized her by the hand and later by the waist. She quoted him as saying as she struggled with him:

"How about a date, baby? ... What's the matter, baby? Can't you take it ... You needn't be afraid of me."

Houston, Irving Schools To Face Legislative Probe

AUSTIN, Sept. 23—UP—Subcommittees to investigate the Houston and Irving school systems were named Friday by the chairman of the House general investigating committee.

Chairman Wade F. Spilman Jr., McAllen representative, named Reps. Regan Huffman of Marshall and Jack Welch of Marlin to conduct an inquiry into the Houston School system.

Reps. Scott McDonald of Fort Worth and Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe were named to the subcommittee to investigate the Irving school system.

The Houston system was sharply criticized by the National Education Association after an investigation was set off by the firing of a deputy superintendent. Irving teachers walked out last February after the superintendent there was fired. He later was rehired.

Most of Minnesota's 14,800 Indians live in 13 reservations and communities in the northern part of the state. However, more and more young adults leave to find better jobs.

home of Carl McHenry's father, a prominent physician. His home was the scene of many gatherings of a social nature in the years that are past. Here the early days of Dr. A. G. McHenry, Carl McHenry and Neal W. McHenry were spent. All are among Monroe's most prominent residents of the present day.

The house, we are told, is to be dismantled and when the site is cleared, it is expected that the Lion Oil company will erect a filling station on the site.

The Monroe Maternity clinic plans to raise needed funds and will have a card party conducted in the St. Matthew's gymnasium Monday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Sam Hodges is president of the clinic group and Mrs. George Tonore is chairman of the party, with Mrs. Ted Mahr, vice-chairman.

The public is urged to attend and to help a most worthy cause.

A stranger in town stopped an elderly man and asked how to get to a certain street. "Go right ahead and it is the first street on your left," the man accosted stated.

The man thanked him and then the informant, getting a sudden hunch, called after him, "Now, if you are left handed, just turn the other way!"

Flowers, perfume and lingerie were quite evident in the pile of packages a local man had assembled in his arms and he was by no means youthful.

"What on earth are you doing with all that stuff? Don't you remember you are a middle-aged man?" a friend declared when he met the second person.

"I'm doing all right," came the reply, "Some men at my age are seeking greener pastures, but for me, well, I decided to cultivate the one I already have."

Samuel H. Kress, nonagenarian, originator and operator of a vast system of chain stores, one of which is in Monroe, died in New York City Thursday.

He had visited Monroe not so long ago but, extremely modest, he did not permit his visits to any of his stores to be publicized. In accord with this policy he came here, made an inspection and departed with only a very few knowing of his presence.

It is told of him that he started life as newsboy, but as owner of 250 nickel and dime stores, he became philanthropically inclined,

Jail Prisoners Get Late Meals—Cook At Movie

CONROE, Tex., Sept. 23—UP—Montgomery county jail prisoners got a late breakfast Friday—all because the cook decided to go to a show.

The cook was U. V. Cox, 34, under a two-year burglary sentence. He got official permission to leave the jail Thursday and take in a show.

Somewhat the report got out that he had broken out of jail and was wounded in a gunfight at Houston. "The only thing I was armed with was a bottle of gin and $20 I borrowed from Justice of the Peace (C. K.) McDaniel," Cox explained. He said he went to Houston to see his wife, but got into a fight with his sister-in-law.

The sister-in-law swore out a complaint for aggravated assault. Cox later called his wife from a tavern and told her he had been shot. Sheriff's deputies went to the tavern, where they found Cox. He wasn't shot.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Here Are Helpful Hints For Those Reducing

Today I want to give a few hints to the reducer, and take courage, that hollow feeling which you are bound to have will disappear after a couple of weeks, sometimes sooner.

Foods which require much chewing because of their bulk make you feel fuller. Green salads, raw carrots, cabbage, fresh fruits and celery have little calorie count. They also are important because of their high mineral and vitamin content. Lean meat and eggs "stick to the ribs" and are valuable in the low calorie diet. Bake, boil or broil — do not fry them. Hot foods often are comforting to the reducer. Warm soup is fine but leave the cream and fat out.

No Butter, Margarine Do not use butter or margarine in cooking. Season your food separately from the family food. Put aside two teaspoonsful of butter and use it in any way you wish.

As a rule three meals a day are best but many women find it easier to save some allowable item for mid-morning and mid-afternoon and just before going to sleep at night. A glass of orange or tomato juice or skim milk, fresh fruit, carrot sticks or celery in between meals build up your vitamin intake and also bridge the gap between meals. These also are low in calorie count.

Don't Give In Perhaps the greatest aid to successful and happy weight reduction is to know within yourself that you are NOT going to break over even in the smallest way. This not only assures you a weight loss but it actually makes it easier for you. Temptation wanes when you KNOW for certain that you are not going to give in. It is only when you are dallying with the idea of giving in that reducing is difficult. Break your reducing period up into short periods. Two weeks is enough for the first leg toward beauty. Then repeat.

If you would like to have my Calorie Chart send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper. (Released by The Register and Tribune Syndicate, 1955)

Highway transport industries provide a living for one of every seven workers in the nation.

PLASTER HEADS JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Paul Brown of Neptune Beach takes a busman's holiday every day. He's a plasterer by trade — and his hobby is working with plaster. He spends much of after work hours casting African masks — putting in plaster what the Africans make of wood. Brown tries to catch in the characteristic head types of different tribes what he thinks may be a spiritual theme such as might be caught in music or painting. He mounts them on expanded metal — a wire mesh — and frames them in shadow boxes.

Efficient Farming 'More Important' Than A-Weapons

HOUSTON, Sept. 23—A Louisiana educator said today efficient farming is more important to the nation than atomic weapons.

Dr. Norman J. Efferson, director of the Louisiana State University Experiment Station, spoke at the 8th annual Industrial Health Conference sponsored by the public health committee of the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

Efferson predicted that countries and economic systems which produce food and clothing cheaply and in large amounts will prevail over those that do not. Increased living standards and stockpiles of food and materials may offset the danger of war, he said.

Discussing the country's farm surpluses, he said: "They are a temporary thing and should not mislead Americans from the central fact that expansion in farm production is essential for continued progress."

Seven years hence, he said, the United States will need 3,500,000 more cattle, 2,500,000 more sheep and 9,000,000 more pigs to meet demands for food. The added livestock, he said, will require a crop-producing area the size of Texas.

Cause Of Airline Crash Revealed In CAB Findings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—UP—The cause of the American Airlines crash at Springfield, Mo., last March was listed Friday in findings of the Civil Aeronautics Board which set the date for an investigation into another American crash.

The CAB said the plane which crashed March 20 and killed 11 of the 32 persons aboard at Springfield wasn't following the recommended method for instrument landing. The plane was en route from Newark, N. J., to Tulsa, Okla., when it ran into weather conditions at Springfield that made an instrument approach mandatory.

The CAB also announced a public hearing for Oct. 4 in Springfield to investigate the probable cause of another American Airlines crash Aug. 4 during an emergency landing attempt near Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Twenty-seven passengers and three crew members died in the crash.

North Monroe Suburb Offers Choice Homes

Five homes are being constructed and 200 lots have been set aside for future development in the North Monroe suburb, a new subdivision, located about two miles from city limits on the Sterling Road.

Developers of the new subdivision, the North Monroe Realty Company of 2220 Louisville Avenue, whose president is L. M. Ray and vice-president is H. C. Wroten, are picturing the new area of homes as a design for suburban living.

They stress the availability of public water, lights and gas and the fact that the subdivision is only 12 minutes away from the heart of Monroe. The equal access to Sterling Road was also considered in the development, said Wroten, who added that Sterling Road would be the new industrial area of Ouachita Parish.

Thus, buyers of these homes could work in Sterling Road, shop in the Twin Cities and yet live in the suburbs.

Crawford homes, a nationally-known product, are being put up in the suburb, said Wroten, who stated that the homes run in the $12-$15,000 price range.

Typical of these is the model home being opened to the public Saturday afternoon on Ray Drive just off the Sterling Road. It has three bedrooms, kitchen, living-dining room and bath. The home is of brick and wood construction with a concrete back porch and carport, full size sliding closets, glassed sliding kitchen shelves, overhang roof and an electric kitchen. It is fully insulated, air-conditioned with central heating.

"This is the beginning of a new section of the city," Wroten said.

The suburb is approved by the FHA, said Wroten, who noted the success of the Crawford homes in other areas of the state. "A number of these homes have been built in Gentilly Woods in New Orleans and in Lake Charles," he added.

The lots, which measure 100x150 feet, will also be available to home-owners who wish to build their own homes. They will range from $1,500 for a non-wooded area to $1,750 for wooded section and $2,000 for a corner location.

West Monroe has not been forgotten in the expansion and it is only about 14 minutes from the area by way of Forsythe Avenue and with only one traffic signal en route.

None of the homes under construction have been sold yet, said Wroten, who added that he expected to sell 30 to 35 this year and an appreciably higher number next year. He noted that other developments were being undertaken in the nearby area.

The North Monroe suburb should satisfy the needs of those who want to live in the country and enjoy city conveniences.

Anti-Trust Suit Against 5 Movie Studios Starts

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23 (AP)—A civil anti-trust case against five movie studios to compel them to make their productions available for television began trial today in federal court.

Prosecutor Samuel Flawel said in opening the case yesterday that the government will prove there has been a conspiracy to withhold products from TV stations and to restrict exhibition of 16 multi-meter prints so they would not compete with commercial showings.

Defense Atty. Homer Mitchell denied there was any conspiracy to withhold pictures. Such action, he said, was individual with the various studios and based entirely on sound business judgment. Leasing the pictures to TV would result in "unreasonable loss of revenue to producers," Mitchell argued.

The major studios involved are Columbia, 20th Century-Fox, Warner Bros., Universal-International and RKO.

10,000 Pumpkin Pies Baked For Annual Festival

EUREKA, Ill., Sept. 23—UP—Housewives of this tiny town baked 10,000 pumpkin pies Thursday in preparation for the biennial pumpkin festival today and Saturday.

About one-third of the pumpkin canned in the United States is grown in the Eureka area. The town of 2,300 population expects 70,000 to 75,000 visitors.

Hits Non-Recognition Of Catholic Schools

BOSTON, Sept. 23—Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston says that out of the 40 Massachusetts delegates chosen for President Eisenhower's White House conference on education "not one man or woman represents the Catholic elementary and secondary schools of Massachusetts."

As a result, the prelate said last night, Massachusetts Catholic schools with their enrollment of 200,340, will receive no recognition and no representation. He termed the omission a "narrowness, so inconsistent with the breadth of vision in which the great White House conference was conceived."

BEAUTIFUL SETTING—Large trees form a beautiful background for the home shown above in the new North Monroe suburb which will be open to the public Saturday and Sunday.

INSIDE VIEW—The above picture shows the spaciousness of the interior of home model 1116 in North Monroe Suburb which is being opened Saturday and Sunday. This is one of five basic floor plans included in the new home development located north of Monroe on Sterling Highway. One of the new homes to be open to the public will be furnished and decorated by Furniture Studios, Inc.

Holt Protests Red Apology

VAN NUYS, Calif., Sept. 23—UP—Chunky Rep. Joe Holt (R-Calif.) a former Marine officer, Thursday charged that a Russian explanation and apology for his detention at gunpoint near Moscow recently was completely distorted and unsatisfactory to him.

The State Department said it was bringing the matter to a close despite an "unsatisfactory" Russian explanation of the affair. It permitted Holt to release a "slightly paraphrased" text of the Soviet note.

The Soviet note, Holt said, accused him of trying to take unfavorable photographs including an attempt to pose a girl "as if she were begging alms." The Russians admitted a lieutenant drew a revolver, but claimed he did not threaten the congressman with it. They said the action, however, was "worthy of regret" and that "correct disciplinary measures" were taken.

M'Guire Church Plans For Week Of Revivals

The annual youth-led revival for the M'Guire Methodist church will begin Sunday, and continue through October 2.

Rev. James Poole, pastor of the Oak Ridge Methodist church of St. Joseph will work with the youth and lead the singing.

Services will be held twice each day at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. with the youth meeting at 6:45 each evening.

Rev. Poole received his training for the ministry at Northwestern College and from Chandler School of Theology Emory University, Ga. He received his B. A. degree at Northwestern College, Natchitoches, and his B. D. degree from the Chandler School of Theology at Emory University, Georgia. Upon completion of school Rev. Poole was assigned to the Oak Ridge church, where he has been pastor for the past three years. He married the former Miss Retta Strickland of Monroe and they have one son, James William Poole.

Rev. Baker was licensed to preach at the Oak Ridge church in 1946 and entered Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Tex., where he received his B. A. degree in 1951. He entered the Perkins School of Theology, S. M. U., where he received his B. D. degree in 1953.

Rev. Baker was pastor of the Palestine circuit in the Texas conference of the Methodist church from May 1950 to June 1952. He was appointed to the St. Joseph charge in June 1953, where he has had a very successful pastorate.

The evangelist's themes for discussion are listed as follows: Sunday night, "The Three Cheers of Jesus"; Sunday morning, "The Needs of Jesus"; Sunday evening, "Christ the Light"; Tuesday morning, "The Voice of Jesus"; Tuesday evening, "Christ's Cross"; Wednesday morning, "The

Thoughts of Jesus'; Wednesday evening, "There is An Umpire"; Thursday morning, "The Father of Jesus"; Thursday evening, "Tired of Living, Afraid of Dying"; Friday morning, "The Passion of Jesus"; Friday evening, "The Spirit of the Lord."

On Sunday October 2, we will celebrate our sixth anniversary. There will be dinner on the grounds. Former pastors, district superintendents and members are urged to be present.

Efficient Farming 'More Important' Than A-Weapons

HOUSTON, Sept. 23—A Louisiana educator said today efficient farming is more important to the nation than atomic weapons.

Dr. Norman J. Efferson, director of the Louisiana State University Experiment Station, spoke at the 8th annual Industrial Health Conference sponsored by the public health committee of the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

Efferson predicted that countries and economic systems which produce food and clothing cheaply and in large amounts will prevail over those that do not. Increased living standards and stockpiles of food and materials may offset the danger of war, he said.

Discussing the country's farm surpluses, he said:

"They are a temporary thing and should not mislead Americans from the central fact that expansion in farm production is essential for continued progress."

Seven years hence, he said, the United States will need 3,500,000 more cattle, 2,500,000 more sheep and 9,000,000 more pigs to meet demands for food. The added livestock, he said, will require a crop-producing area the size of Texas.

Cause Of Airline Crash Revealed In CAB Findings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—UP—The cause of the American Airlines crash at Springfield, Mo., last March was listed Friday in findings of the Civil Aeronautics Board which set the date for an investigation into another American crash.

The CAB said the plane which crashed March 20 and killed 11 of the 32 persons aboard at Springfield wasn't following the recommended method for instrument landing. The plane was en route from Newark, N. J., to Tulsa, Okla., when it ran into weather conditions at Springfield that made an instrument approach mandatory.

The CAB also announced a public hearing for Oct. 4 in Springfield to investigate the probable cause of another American Airlines crash Aug. 4 during an emergency landing attempt near Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Twenty-seven passengers and three crew members died in the crash.

North Monroe Suburb Offers Choice Homes

Five homes are being constructed and 200 lots have been set aside for future development in the North Monroe suburb, a new subdivision, located about two miles from city limits on the Sterling Road.

Developers of the new subdivision, the North Monroe Realty Company of 2220 Louisville Avenue, whose president is L. M. Ray and vice-president is H. C. Wroten, are picturing the new area of homes as a design for suburban living.

They stress the availability of public water, lights and gas and the fact that the subdivision is only 12 minutes away from the heart of Monroe. The equal access to Sterlington was also considered in the development, said Wroten, who added that Sterlington would be the new industrial area of Ouachita Parish.

Thus, buyers of these homes could work in Sterlington, shop in the Twin Cities and yet live in the suburbs.

Crawford homes, a nationally-known product, are being put up in the suburb, said Wroten, who stated that the homes run in the $12-$15,000 price range.

Typical of these is the model home being opened to the public Saturday afternoon on Ray Drive just off the Sterlington Road. It has three bedrooms, kitchen, living-dining room and bath. The home is of brick and wood construction with a concrete back porch and carport, full size sliding closets, glassed sliding kitchen shelves, overhang roof and an electric kitchen. It is fully insulated, air-conditioned with central heating.

"This is the beginning of a new section of the city," Wroten said. The suburb is approved by the FHA, said Wroten, who noted the success of the Crawford homes in other areas of the state. "A number of these homes have been built in Gentilly Woods in New Orleans and in Lake Charles," he added.

The lots, which measure 100x150 feet, will also be available to homeowners who wish to build their own homes. They will range from $1,500 for a non-wooded area to $1,750 for wooded section and $2,000 for a corner location.

West Monroe has not been forgotten in the expansion and it is only about 14 minutes from the area by way of Forsythe Avenue and with only one traffic signal enroute.

None of the homes under construction have been sold yet, said Wroten, who added that he expected to sell 30 to 35 this year and an appreciably higher number next year. He noted that other developments were being undertaken in the nearby area.

The North Monroe suburb should satisfy the needs of those who want to live in the country and enjoy city conveniences.

Anti-Trust Suit Against 5 Movie Studios Starts

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23—A civil anti-trust case against five movie studios to compel them to make their productions available for television began trial today in federal court.

Prosecutor Samuel Flatow said in opening the case yesterday that the government will prove there has been a conspiracy to withhold products from TV stations and to restrict exhibition of 16 - millimeter prints so they would not compete with commercial showings.

Defense Atty. Homer Mitchell denied there was any conspiracy to withhold pictures. Such action, he said, was individual with the various studios and based entirely on sound business judgment. Leasing the pictures to TV would result in "unreasonable loss of revenue to producers," Mitchell argued.

The major studios involved are Columbia, 20th Century - Fox, Warner Bros., Universal - International and RKO.

10,000 Pumpkin Pies Baked For Annual Festival

EUREKA, Ill., Sept. 23—UP—Housewives of this tiny town baked 10,000 pumpkin pies Thursday in preparation for the biennial pumpkin festival today and Saturday.

About one-third of the pumpkin canned in the United States is grown in the Eureka area. The town of 2,300 population expects 70,000 to 75,000 visitors.

Hits Non-Recognition Of Catholic Schools

BOSTON, Sept. 23—Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston says that out of the 40 Massachusetts delegates chosen for President Eisenhower's White House conference on education "not one man or woman represents the Catholic elementary and secondary schools of Massachusetts."

As a result, the prelate said last night, Massachusetts Catholic schools with their enrollment of 200,540, will receive no recognition and no representation.

He termed the omission a "narrowness, so inconsistent with the breadth of vision in which the great White House conference was conceived."

BEAUTIFUL SETTING—Large trees form a beautiful background for the home shown above in the new North Monroe suburb which will be open to the public Saturday and Sunday.

INSIDE VIEW—The above picture shows the spaciousness of the interior of home model 1116 in North Monroe Suburb which is being opened Saturday and Sunday. This is one of five basic floor plans included in the new home development located north of Monroe on Sterlington Highway. One of the new homes to be open to the public will be furnished and decorated by Furniture Studios, Inc.

Holt Protests Red Apology

VAN NUYS, Calif., Sept. 23—UP—Chunky Rep. Joe Holt (R-Calif.) a former Marine officer, Thursday charged that a Russian explanation and apology for his detention at gunpoint near Moscow recently was completely distorted and unsatisfactory to him.

The State Department said it was bringing the matter to a close despite an "unsatisfactory" Russian explanation of the affair.

It permitted Holt to release a "slightly paraphrased" text of the Soviet note.

The Soviet note, Holt said, accused him of trying to take unfavorable photographs including an attempt to pose a girl "as if she were begging alms." The Russians admitted a lieutenant drew a revolver, but claimed he did not threaten the congressman with it. They said the action, however, was "worthy of regret" and that "correct disciplinary measures" were taken.

Scholarly Study Of Frankfurter Intake Impressive

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—UP—A scholarly study by the American Meat Institute shows that all the frankfurters eaten by Americans this year would stretch to the moon and back.

And there would be enough left over to encircle the earth five times.

To put it in more humdrum terms, American consume about 5½ billion frankfurters a year.

Further data gleaned from the magazine National Livestock Producer shows that the average American eats the meat equivalent of 33 hogs, 10 lambs, eight steers and four veal calves.

That's provided he lives to be 68.3 years of age, today's normal life expectancy.

The frankfurter, considered to be a typically American morsel, emigrated to this country from the old German city of the same name. It's cousin, the wiener, came from Vienna.

The average pound of meat consumed in this country travels 1,000 miles from "open range to kitchen range," as the meat institute phrases it.

This is due largely to the fact that two-thirds of all meat is produced west of the Mississippi while two-thirds of it is consumed east of the river.

Regional traditions and geographical meat-eating habits complicate the situation further.

For example, a ring-bologna belt stretches from Oklahoma City northeastward to Detroit. The best market for cold cuts parallels the coal mines and steel mills from eastern Pennsylvania to Milwaukee.

Veal calves are a by-product of the dairy industry, and you would expect Wisconsin to consume a lot of veal. But families in New Orleans consume five times as much veal as families in Wisconsin.

NEW METHOD

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP)—Experiments in pear orchards here hint that the oily smudge filling the air on cold night can be eliminated. Experimenters from Oregon State College tried burning sawdust briquettes and lengths of waste wood from sawmills to heat the air.

They said the method holds promise, gives clean smoke and the cost is comparable with that of oil.

Yankees Clinch Flag With 3-2 Night Win At Boston

Red Hose Claim Afternoon Scrap By 8 To 4 Count

By JACK HAND
BOSTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—The New York Yankees nailed down their 21st American League pennant tonight by shattering Boston 3-2 in the second half of a day-night double header with the help of stout-hearted relief pitching by Whitey Ford. The clinching had been delayed about seven hours when the Yanks lost the day game 8-4.

Although Ford yielded Jackie Jensen's 26th home run in the eighth, he made the mighty Ted Williams ground into a rally-killing double play with the bases full in the seventh. The little lefty walked Billy Klau, on a 3-2 pitch, to lead the bases after replacing Don Larsen, then made Williams claim a 21 delivery toward Billy Martin to start the double play.

The victory gave Casey Stengel's Yankees a 3½ game lead over the idle Cleveland Indians, with only two to play, bounding them into another rich World Series with the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Indians, who led by two games on the morning of Sept. 11 but lost first place a week ago, were named out of their afternoon game at Detroit.

Ford, the likely starter in next Wednesday's opener at Yankee Stadium in the sixth Dodger-Yank series.

Northeast In Texas For Stephen F. Austin Contest

Lumberjacks Will Employ Huge Line Against Redskins

The Northeast Louisiana State Indians, anxious to grab their season's first football win, are in Nacogdoches, Tex., today for a meeting with the Stephen F. Austin College team tonight at 8 o'clock. The game is the first of only two on the road this season for Coach Devone Payne's Redskins who play their next five at home before making their final journey to Natchitoches for a meeting with Northwestern November 5.

After taking a 40-0 defeat last week from the Southeastern Lions, Gulf States Conference champions, who were undefeated last season, Northeast apparently will be running into another tough one tonight.

Stephen Austin's Lumberjacks have 17 lettersman back this season, giving plenty of depth in experienced reserves, and, according to reports from Nacogdoches, Coach Ted Jerrers claims his current Lumberjacks constitute the "finest all-around club I've ever coached in my nine years" at Stephen F. Austin. His starting line will average 219 pounds, probably the heaviest Northeast will go against all year.

Tommy Atkins, who used to star on the grids of this area for Homer High School, is one of Jerrers' ace backs.

But the Tribe appeared confident on its departure for Texas that it can give the 'Jacks a rousing game.

Aubrey Wade, a 180-pound left halfback from Laurel, Miss., was impressive in the losing cause last week and his punting was some of the best Northeast has ever had, averaging 41 yards.

Probable lineups:

Northeast
Left end, Joe Driskill, 185; left tackle, Francis Yocom, 225; left guard, C. J. Melancon, 170; center, Dalton Smith, 210; right guard, Bob Windle, 225; right tackle, Sherwood McKinn, 245; right end, Billy Laird, 190; quarterback, Wallace Hargan, 180; left half, Aubrey Wade, 180; right half, Tommy Leos, 175; fullback, "Howdy" Nugent, 185.

Expect Shaw To Sign As Air Force Coach

CULVER CITY, Calif., Sept. 23 (AP)—Buck Shaw may be signed within two weeks as football coach of the Air Force Academy at Denver, the academy publicity director said today.

Shaw, former coach of the San Francisco 49ers and of Santa Clara University, has been serving as athletic advisor for the new academy.

1st Lt. John D. Colburn, the publicist, told the Culver City Quarterback Club that he expects the signing of Shaw shortly.

RUSTON, La. —Louisiana Tech's football squad for 1955 is almost a home state organization. The Bulldog roster lists only five players who are not from Louisiana and the starting team has only one fellow in the lineup whose home is outside the state.

Ouachita Wildlife Group Has Annual Fish Fry Tonight

Climaxing a successful membership drive and to create a feeling of close fellowship between members, both old and new, the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation announced plans for a "fish fry" to be held at the American Legion Home tonight at 6 o'clock.

Mounds of gold brown fish—carefully prepared by men who learned their culinary art from years of bending over smoking campfires in remote swamps; "hush-puppies," made by a man who claims to have learned the secret recipe from an Indian princess; and piles of piquant potato salad will be the bill of fare for those in attendance.

In addition to the gastronomic delights there will be a general "bull session" with tall tales of hunting and fishing (both true and false); duck calling exhibitions by self-styled experts, who also promise to turn out "souse" calls brought by beginners; and tips on nearby areas that promise to be productive in the coming hunting season will be given by men fortunate enough to spend a great deal of time in the woods.

In past years, many lasting hunting and fishing friendships have been formed at these annual events and new sportsmen of this area are looking forward to the chance of becoming acquainted with the old masters of the game and possibly be invited to share a day of sport in some "hot spot" in the remote recesses of the swamps.

The officers and members of the wildlife unit, have extended an invitation to all sportsmen of this area to join the federation and become better acquainted with those who share a common interest at this annual fish-fry.

Baltimore Club, Manager Fined In Bonus Cover-Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today fined the Baltimore club $2,000 and General Manager Paul Richards $2,500 for violation of the bonus rule and conduct detrimental to baseball in connection with the signing of pitcher Thomas Borland. Frick also declared Borland a free agent.

Borland, a former pitcher for Oklahoma A and M, was declared free to sign with any club except Baltimore and its affiliates, after Oct. 10, 1955.

In addition, the commissioner warned Richards that any further violations will result in his being declared ineligible "for one or more years." He said no suspension was imposed this time because he felt it would work a definite hardship on the Baltimore club and on baseball in Baltimore.

Frick said officers of the club were not involved in the case and had been "kept in the dark" by Richards.

Borland, sought by at least eight clubs after the college world series in Omaha last June, was signed by Richards to a Baltimore contract calling for payments of $40,000 over a three-year period. The contract never was filed with the American League president for approval, according to baseball law.

In a brief discussion of the five-page mimeographed decision, Frick emphasized that sole responsibility for the "cover up" rested on Richards.

Baltimore club officers, he said, did not know about the general manager's action until the investigation was begun. They admitted moral obligation for the payment of the full amount of the contract, less whatever amount Borland may receive from another club. As a result the club was fined the minimum amount prescribed for a bonus rule violation while Richards was fined heavily.

Frick added that he did not intend to become involved in any controversy over the case and would not discuss it after the first announcement.

RUSTON, La., Sept. 23 (AP)—After waiting a long year to gain revenge for a 28-0 licking by Mississippi Southern last season, Louisiana Tech Bulldogs have gathered new strength and additional strategy in the hopes of upsetting the favored Southerners at Tech Stadium here Saturday night.

Kickoff time for the first home game of the season is 8 p.m. and a capacity crowd is expected to be on hand to watch the two big teams match blows. It is one of the toughest contests on the Bulldog schedule this season and it is no secret that the Canines want very much to win this big one.

Football spirit was rapidly reaching a climax on the Tech campus Friday. A rousing pep rally staged in Howard Auditorium Friday morning set the scene for a big turnout on the part of Tech students.

It has been six long years since the Techmen have won over the Black and Gold from Hattiesburg, Miss. The Bulldogs aren't too pleased with the fact that the Southern gridders are the only team on the 1955 schedule that has won more games from Tech than it has lost. Since the series began back in 1935 the Canines have won three and lost 10.

The two squads will be at almost full strength for the battle. Both will feature big, husky linemen and fast ball carriers. When Coach Thad Vann's Southerners take the field Saturday night the visitors will have a starting unit that averages 190 pounds—216 in the line and 178 in the ball carrying department.

Tech will be able to match the Southern weight. The Bulldog first team will average 197—the Canine line will tip the scales at 216 per man and the backs at 182. Both outfits won easy opening victories last week. Tech outclassed Louisiana College, 40-7, and Mississippi Southern powered past Elon College of North Carolina with little trouble, 39-0. The opening contest revealed that Tech has greater depth and speed than it has had for several seasons. Good reserve strength has been one of the strong points of the Southern squad.

Probable starting lineups:
Miss. Southern

The commissioner found that Richards had persuaded Borland to visit Baltimore after the college playoffs and signed him to a major league contract calling for a salary of $8,000 for 1955 and 1956 and $9,000 for 1957 and bonus payments of $7,500 on approval of the contract by the American League president and $7,500 on May 1, 1956.

This contract never was promulgated nor submitted to the league president. Neither was a copy ever delivered to Borland.

Later, after tryouts indicated that Borland would not be useful to the Orioles, Richards recommended him to Brick Laws, president of the Oakland Pacific Coast League club, and induced the pitcher to sign a $4,000 a year contract with Oakland. Borland finished out the season with Oakland.

The player was assured he would be paid the amount due to him under the original contract and, at Richards' direction, he was paid $6,000 by traveling Secretary Jack Dunn before he went to Oakland.

Dunn and Assistant General Manager Art Ehlers, who later signed the contract for the club, were reprimanded for their "ostensible attitude" in failing to raise any question about the legality of the proceedings.

The Baltimore club's defense was that there was no wrongful cover-up because the club is allowed 20 days in which to file a contract and Richards and Borland had rescinded the contract when Borland agreed to go to Oakland, thus making him a free agent.

Frick ruled that once a contract is signed, a club has a duty to file it and has no right to rescind or destroy it. The only way a player can be made a free agent is to give him his unconditional release in accordance with the rules.

Richards knew this, Frick said, because he had been told in discussing a similar case of pitcher John Bruce Swango.

Mobile Invading Shreveport For First Of Series

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 23 (AP)—Shreveport and Mobile meet here tomorrow night in the 33rd Dixie Baseball Series between playoff champions of the Texas League and the Southern Association.

Texas League teams have won 17 series and Southern Association teams 16. A little rain fell today but it was not expected to postpone the start of the best of 7-game series. Officials are expecting a crowd of about 7,500.

Starting pitcher for Shreveport is John Andre who has a 4-4 regular season record and 1-2 in the playoffs. On the Mobile mound will be Ralph Marullo, 19-3 during the season and 3-0 in the playoffs.

Shreveport won the Texas League playoff last night, downing Houston 3-0 in the seventh game of the playoff. It is the third Dixie Series for Sports. Shreveport lost to Nashville in 1942 and lost to Memphis in 1952.

Mobile downed Birmingham by a series count of 4-2 for the Southern playoff title today. Mobile beat Fort Worth in the Dixie Series in 1922 and lost to Houston in 1947.

The three-man board of control of the Dixie Series, headed by Texas League President Dick Butler, has scheduled a meeting in Shreveport tomorrow morning to go over rules and regulations and the order of games.

Eight-Horse Field Ready For United Nations Handicap

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 23 (AP)—A field of eight, headed by the Irish-bred thoroughbred Blue Choir, is scheduled to march post tomorrow for the third running of the $100,000 added United Nations Handicap at the Atlantic City race track.

The eight thoroughbreds qualified for the U.N. by finishing among the first four in one of last week's double-barreled $50,000 U.N. Preliminary Stakes—the foreign-bred or the American-bred. The three big races are part of the triple turf series with the U.N. the final leg.

Blue Choir, owned by Mrs. Harry L. Nathanson, Chicago, won the foreign-bred event and qualified for the U.N. along with the second, third and fourth place finishers—English-bred Queens Beesches, and two French-bred horses, Klairon and Fox 2nd.

Willie Hartack, the nation's winningest jockey will be aboard Blue Choir as he was in the foreign-bred event and the combination looms as an odds on favorite to win the mile and three sixteenths U.N.

The other four entries qualified by finishing among the first four in the American-Bred Stakes. Prince Hill, full brother of Hill Prince, 1950 horse of the year, won the American-Bred followed by Chevalon, Boy D'Amour and Kaster. It was a surprise victory for Prince Hill and the first big win for the four-year-old prince—quillo-hiddene horse.

Grambling Goes To Alcorn For Scrap Tonight

ALCORN, Miss., Sept. 23 (Special)—The Grambling Tigers will let the Alcorn A&M Braves have it with all batteries here Saturday night in an effort to temper the 26-0 beating they absorbed from Coach Dwight Fisher's Braves last fall.

Eddie Robinson's vastly improved Tigers will take the field a nine point underdog, despite the 39-0 victory scored over Paul Quinn in the season opener.

Grambling has worked hard all week on ball handling, blocking, timing and pass defense in an effort to eliminate basic defaults uncovered in the first contest.

Alcorn gave a glittering performance last week in routing Mississippi Vocational College 25-12. With all their first line personnel in good condition, the Braves may encounter little trouble solving the defensive problems posed by Grambling's diversified attack.

Hugh Taylor Elects To Stay In Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (AP)—Hugh "Bones" Taylor, lanky end who joined the Ottawa Rough Riders this season, has turned down overtures to return to the U.S. National Football League.

The Washington Redskins sold Taylor to the Los Angeles Rams earlier this season. Taylor said today he was offered more to play for the Rams than he earns here but the offer came a couple of months late. He is reported to be making between $8,000 and $9,000 with the Riders.

Taylor played collegiate football at Northeast Louisiana State and Oklahoma City U.

Capacity Crowd Expected For Cook-Sanchez Match

A capacity house is expected at Kallio's Arena Monday night to welcome the return of Clarence Cook to the local fistic scene. The lanky, thunderous punching Oak Grove welterweight faces Pete Sanchez, a hard hitting Mexican out of Houston, in the ten-round star attraction.

Cook is in peak form, and raring to show the hometown folks why the Ring magazine, also, Boxing and Wrestling magazine stamp him as one of the country's foremost young 147-pounders. He has trained hard for Monday night's battle with the larruping Mexican mauler, and is determined to go all out in an effort to gain additional recognition throughout the country.

Sanchez has been training daily in Houston, Tex., since returning from a victorious campaign in Mexico, where he ran off kayo wins over Francisco Gaytan and Raymundo Munoz. The iron-lawed, hard-hitting Mexican welter is always in a war and has never balked at meeting anyone—even 160-pounders. Perhaps his best punch is a whistling left hook which he tosses with a lot of authority, and if he lands one flush on the whiskers of Cook the fight could end then and there.

The very popular Cook figures to work his piston like left jab overtime, until he spots the opening for a booming right hand. This combination stopped Bob Garcia at Lake Charles earlier this month in a sensational battle. Sanchez, who has a vast amount of experience in the pro ranks, figures to use all the tricks in the book against the Oak Grove boy and his best bet, of course, is the powerful left hook.

Promoter Gus Kallio last night said the advanced sale of tickets has been greater than for any other fight card he has ever promoted here, and in making plans for accommodating his expected crowd, 300 additional ringside chairs have been secured. Tickets are on advanced sale at Don Quinn in Bastrop, Pippin Cafe in Oak Grove, and Kallio's residence office here, 1101 Jackson street.

Referee Tony Labranch scored 97-94, judge Herb Williams saw it 97-94 and judge Charley Hill counted it 95-93.

Christensen had his best round in the sixth when he shook Jones with several right crosses and kept him off balance throughout the round with a busy left hand.

Most of the Dane's punches, however, seemed to annoy Jones more than hurt him.

RUSTON, La. —Louisiana Tech has won more Gulf States Conference football contests than any other team in the league. Since the GSC was organized in 1948 the Techmen have racked up the enviable record of 26 victories, nine defeats, and two ties for a hefty 730 per centage.

Haas Forges Two-Stroke Lead In Sponsors Event

NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 23 (AP)—Dig Fred Haas mastered narrow fairways and tricky, rolling greens for the second straight day to take a two-stroke lead today at the halfway mark of the $43,000 Sponsors Golf Tournament at the Charles River Country Club.

Haas, who shared the first round lead after firing a brilliant 67, again toured the 6,431-yard, par 72 course in sub-par fashion, carding a two under 34-60 for a total score of 137 for 35 holes.

The 39-year-old Haas turned in birdies on the third hole with a 12 foot putt, on the seventh hole

Oak Grove Beats Start In Battle Of TD's, 25-19

START, La., Sept. 23 (Special)—The Oak Grove Tigers, trailing 7-6 at the half, fought from behind with two touchdowns in the third period and marched over the Start High Owls, 25 to 19, here last night.

Green passed 12 yards to Larry Carley for Oak Grove to start the scoring in the first quarter, but Williams took a handoff from Trisler on the eight and brought Start a tying touchdown. Williams added the point that put the Owls in front as the quarter ended.

Corley ran the following kickoff all the way to start the second quarter, but the TD was nullified by a penalty against the Tigers. Bill Newton and Barnelle Harrison sent Oak Grove ahead to stay in the third period. Green scampered 10 yards to paydirt, and Harrison turned in a 22-yard gallop. Start tightened it up as Trisler fires a pass to Watts for a touchdown, the play covering 40 yards.

Each team matched touchdowns in the last quarter. Corley raced 12 yards for the final Oak Grove TD and added the point. Start fired back with Williams scoring from eight yards out.

Oak Grove completed four of 11 passes. Start completed six of nine.

Medalist Shines As Trans Players Gain Semi-Finals

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 23 (AP)—Medalist Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore continued her consistent play in the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament today for a 4 and 3 quarter-finals decision over Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill.

Other quarter-final victors were diminutive Polly Riley, Fort Worth, and two slender shot-makers, Grace DeMoss Smith, Miami, Fla., and Pat Garner Stapler, Midland, Tex.

Miss Riley, co-favored with Miss Downey, won from Mrs. Clint Horn, Houston, 3 and 2, and challengers Mrs. Stapler in tomorrow afternoon's lower bracket semi-finals.

The semi-finals battle in the upper bracket sends Miss Downey against Mrs. Smith, who rallied for a 2-up victory over 18-year-old Linda Melton, representing the host Twin Hills Country Club.

Baltimore Club, Manager Fined In Bonus Cover-Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today fined the Baltimore club $2,000 and General Manager Paul Richards $2,500 for violation of the bonus rule and conduct detrimental to baseball in connection with the signing of pitcher Thomas Borland. Frick also declared Borland a free agent.

Borland, a former pitcher for Oklahoma A. and M. was declared free to sign with any club except Baltimore and its affiliates, after Oct. 10, 1955.

In addition, the commissioner warned Richards that any further violations will result in his being declared ineligible "for one or more years." He said no suspension was imposed this time because he felt it would work a definite hardship on the Baltimore club and on baseball in Baltimore.

Frick said officers of the club were not involved in the case and had been "kept in the dark" by Richards.

Borland, sought by at least eight clubs after the college world series in Omaha last June, was signed by Richards to a Baltimore contract calling for payments of $40,000 over a three-year period. The contract never was filed with the American League president for approval, according to baseball law.

In a brief discussion of the five-page mimeographed decision, Frick emphasized that sole responsibility for the "cover up" rested on Richards.

Baltimore club officers, he said, did not know about the general manager's action until the investigation was begun. They admitted moral obligation for the payment of the full amount of the contract, less whatever amount Borland may receive from another club. As a result the club was fined the minimum amount prescribed for a bonus rule violation while Richards was fined heavily.

Frick added that he did not intend to become involved in any controversy over the case and would not discuss it after the first announcement.

RUSTON, La., Sept. 23 (AP)—After waiting a long year to gain revenge for a 28-0 licking by Mississippi Southern last season, Louisiana Tech Bulldogs have gathered new strength and additional strategy in the hopes of upsetting the favored Southerners at Tech Stadium here Saturday night.

Kickoff time for the first home game of the season is 8 p.m., and a capacity crowd is expected to be on hand to watch the two big teams match blows. It is one of the toughest contests on the Bulldog schedule this season and it is no secret that the Canines want very much to win this big one.

Football spirit was rapidly reaching a climax on the Tech campus Friday. A rousing pep rally staged in Howard Auditorium Friday morning set the scene for a big turnout on the part of Tech students.

It has been six long years since the Techmen have won over the Black and Gold from Hattiesburg, Miss. The Bulldogs aren't too pleased with the fact that the Southern gridders are the only team on the 1955 schedule that has won more games from Tech than it has lost. Since the series began back in 1935 the Canines have won three and lost 10.

The two squads will be at almost full strength for the battle. Both will feature big, husky linemen and fast ball carriers. When Coach Thad Vann's Southerners take the field Saturday night the visitors will have a starting unit that averages 190 pounds — 216 in the line and 178 in the ball carrying department.

Tech will be able to match the Southern weight. The Bulldog first team will average 197 — the Canine line will tip the scales at 216 per man and the backs at 182.

Both outfits won easy opening victories last week. Tech outclassed Louisiana College, 40-7, and Mississippi Southern powered past Elon College of North Carolina with little trouble, 39-0. The opening contest revealed that Tech has greater depth and speed than it has had for several seasons. Good reserve strength has been one of the strong points of the Southern squad.

Probable starting lineups:

Mobile Invading Shreveport For First Of Series

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 23 (AP)—Shreveport and Mobile meet here tomorrow night in the 33rd Dixie Baseball Series between playoff champions of the Texas League and the Southern Association.

Texas League teams have won 17 series and Southern Association teams 16. A little rain fell today but it was not expected to postpone the start of the best of 7-game series. Officials are expecting a crowd of about 7,500.

Starting pitcher for Shreveport is John Andre who had a 4-4 regular season record and 1-2 in the playoffs. On the Mobile mound will be Ralph Marullelo, 19-8 during the season and 3-0 in the playoffs.

Shreveport won the Texas League playoff last night, downing Houston 3-0 in the seventh game of the playoff. It is the third Dixie Series for Sports. Shreveport lost to Nashville in 1942 and lost to Memphis in 1952.

Mobile downed Birmingham by a series count of 4-2 for the Southern playoff title Tuesday. Mobile beat Fort Worth in the Dixie Series in 1922 and lost to Houston in 1947.

The three-man board of control of the Dixie Series, headed by Texas League President Dick Butler, has scheduled a meeting in Shreveport tomorrow morning to go over rules and regulations and the order of games.

Eight-Horse Field Ready For United Nations Handicap

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 23 (AP)—A field of eight, headed by the Irish-bred thoroughbred Blue Choir, is scheduled to march post-wart tomorrow for the third running of the $100,000 added United Nations Handicap at the Atlantic City race track.

The eight thoroughbreds qualified for the U.N. by finishing among the first four in one of last week's double-barreled $50,000 U.N. Preliminary Stakes — the foreign-bred or the American-bred. The three big races are part of the triple turf series with the U.N. the final leg.

Blue Choir, owned by Mrs. Harry L. Nathanson, Chicago, won the foreign-bred event and qualified for the U.N. along with the second, third and fourth place finishers — English-bred Queens Beeches, and two French-bred horses, Klairon and Fox 2nd.

Willie Hartack, the nation's winningest jockey will be aboard Blue Choir as he was in the foreign-bred event and the combination looms as an odds on favorite to win the mile and three sixteenths U.N.

The other four entries qualified by finishing among the first four in the American-Bred Stakes. Prince Hill, full brother of Hill Prince, 1950 horse of the year, won the American-Bred followed by Chevaillon, Boy D'Amour and Kaster. It was a surprise victory for Prince Hill and the first big win for the four-year-old prince — quillo-hildene horse.

Grambling Goes To Alcorn For Scrap Tonight

ALCORN, Miss., Sept. 23 (Special)—The Grambling Tigers will let the Alcorn A&M Braves have it with all batteries here Saturday night in an effort to temper the 26-0 beating they absorbed from Coach Dwight Fisher's Braves last fall.

Eddie Robinson's vastly improved Tigers will take the field at a point underdog, despite the 39-0 victory scored over Paul Quinn in the season opener.

Grambling has worked hard all week on ball handling, blocking, timing and pass defense in an effort to eliminate basic defaults uncovered in the first contest.

Alcorn gave a glittering performance last week in routing Mississippi Vocational College 25-12. With all their first line personnel in good condition, the Braves may encounter little trouble solving the defensive problems posed by Grambling's diversified attack.

Hugh Taylor Elects To Stay In Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (AP)—Hugh (Bones) Taylor, lanky end who joined the Ottawa Rough Riders this season, has turned down overtures to return to the U. S. National Football League.

The Washington Redskins sold Taylor to the Los Angeles Rams earlier this season.

Taylor said today he was offered more to play for the Rams than he earns here but the offer came a couple of months late. He is reported to be making between $8,000 and $9,000 with the Riders.

Taylor played collegiate football at Northeast Louisiana State and Oklahoma City U.

Capacity Crowd Expected For Cook-Sanchez Match

A capacity house is expected at Kallio's Arena Monday night to welcome the return of Clarence Cook to the local fistic scene. The lanky, thunderous punching Oak Grove welterweight faces Pete Sanchez, a hard hitting Mexican out of Houston, in the ten-round star attraction.

Cook is in peak form, and raring to show the hometown folks why the Ring magazine, also, Boxing and Wrestling magazine stamp him as one of the country's foremost

Jones Clubs Way To Victory Over Danish Champion

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, clubbing his way to victory with hard roundhouse rights, won a unanimous 10-round decision tonight over Chris Christensen, Danish welterweight and middleweight champion.

Jones, fighting at 158 pounds, six pounds heavier than Christensen, absorbed the busy jab of his slender opponent, virtually ignoring them as he sought to land his more telling blows. He reddened Christensen's eye by the end of the second round and had it nearly closed by the end of the fight.

Referee Tony Labranch scored 97-94, judge Herb Williams saw it 97-94 and judge Charley Bill counted it 95-93.

Christensen had his best round in the sixth when he shook Jones with several right crosses and kept him off balance throughout the round with a busy left hand.

Most of the Dane's punches, however, seemed to annoy Jones more than hurt him.

RUSTON, La., —Louisiana Tech has won more Gulf States Conference football contests than any other team in the league. Since the GSC was organized in 1948 the Techmen have racked up the enviable record of 26 victories, nine defeats, and two ties for a hefty .730 per centage.

Haas Forges Two-Stroke Lead In Sponsors Event

NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 23 (AP)—The Big Fred Haas mastered narrow fairways and tricky, rolling greens for the second straight day to take a two-stroke lead today at the half-way mark of the $43,000 Sponsors Golf Tournament at the Charles River Country Club.

Haas, who shared the first round lead after firing a brilliant 67, again toured the 6,431-yard, par 72 course in sub-par fashion, carding a two under 34-36-70 for a total score of 137 for 36 holes.

The 39-year-old Haas turned in 12 birdies on the third hole with a 12 foot putt, on the seventh hole with a two-foot putt and on the 13th hole with a 10 foot putt. He bogeyed only one hole, the 18th.

The veteran pro from New Orleans who now plays out of Claremont, Calif., made a tremendous recovery after his approach shot went into deep rough behind a high embankment on the 18th hole. He took his sand wedge and pitched out to within five feet of the cup. However, his first putt just missed and he went one stroke over par for the hole.

National P.G.A. titlist Doug Ford, Klamath Lake, N.Y., and young Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., were deadlocked for second place with 139s.

Veteran Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N.Y., fired a 35-34-67 for the best card of the day and vaulted into contention with a total of 141.

Corley ran the following kickoff all the way to start the second quarter, but the TD was nullified by a penalty against the Tigers.

Bill Newton and Bannelle Harrison send Oak Grove ahead to stay in the third period. Greer scampered 10 yards to paydirt, and Harrison turned in a 22-yard gallop.

Start tightened it up as Trisler fires a pass to Watts for a touchdown, the play covering 40 yards.

Each team matched touchdowns in the last quarter. Corley raced 12 yards for the final Oak Grove TD and added the point. Start fired back with Williams scoring from eight yards out.

Oak Grove completed four of 11 passes, Start completed six of nine.

Medalist Shines As Trans Players Gain Semi-Finals

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 23 (AP)—Medalist Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore continued her consistent play in the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament today for a 4 and 3 quarter-finals decision over Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill.

Other quarter-final victors were diminutive Polly Riley, Fort Worth, and two slender shot-makers, Grace DeMoss Smith, Miami, Fla., and Pat Garner Stapler, Midland Tex.

Miss Riley, co-favored with Miss Downey, won from Mrs. Clint Horn, Houston, 3 and 2, and challengers Mrs. Stapler in tomorrow afternoon's lower bracket semi-finals.

The semi-finals battle in the upper bracket sends Miss Downey against Mrs. Smith, who rallied for a 2-up victory over 18-year-old Linda Melton, representing the host Twin Hills Country Club.

Your Man Wants Freedom? Then Let Him Pay For It

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: After seven years of what seemed like a good marriage my husband tells me he doesn't love me but wants me to give him a chance to find out if he could love me again. He is taking several nights a week out and tells me he goes dancing with other girls. I've never approved of this, but of course, he thinks it's perfectly all right. Am I wrong? B. B.

ANSWER: Your husband is in the pleasant position of having the services of a wife and the freedom of a bachelor. You're too easy. He is married—that's an irrevocable fact. If he wants to be a bachelor again, he'll have to pay a pretty penny for the work you now do for nothing, and he won't get it done as well. His dancing companions aren't interested in his troubles—just his money. They'll be poor comfort to him. In fact, they'll probably run like the devil for fear of getting involved in a divorce suit. Learn your rights, then act—or threaten to act—to get them. Bet you get him back!

WHICH GIRL?

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man of ordinary circumstances struggling to enter a professional field. I am going steady with the daughter of very wealthy parents. Her family often comments caustically on my inferior position.

Since going with Gloria, the wealthy girl, I have met Lizabelle, whose family are in about the same circumstances as ours. Whenever I go into her home I receive a royal welcome. Lizabelle, however, is quite shy and hasn't gone in much for such activities as dancing, swimming, etc.

I like both girls. Gloria is such fun to be with, and Lizabelle's family is swell. Which would you recommend as a mate? S. P.

ANSWER: Gloria is already molded and I suspect you'd have to fit the mold. Lizabelle, on the other hand, is ready to be fashioned to your whim. What if she doesn't dance or swim? Teach her! She has warmth, charm and a willingness to please. Those things can't be taught.

Therefore, I recommend Lizabelle. So, of course, your choice will be Gloria. Well, she'll probably adapt, too.

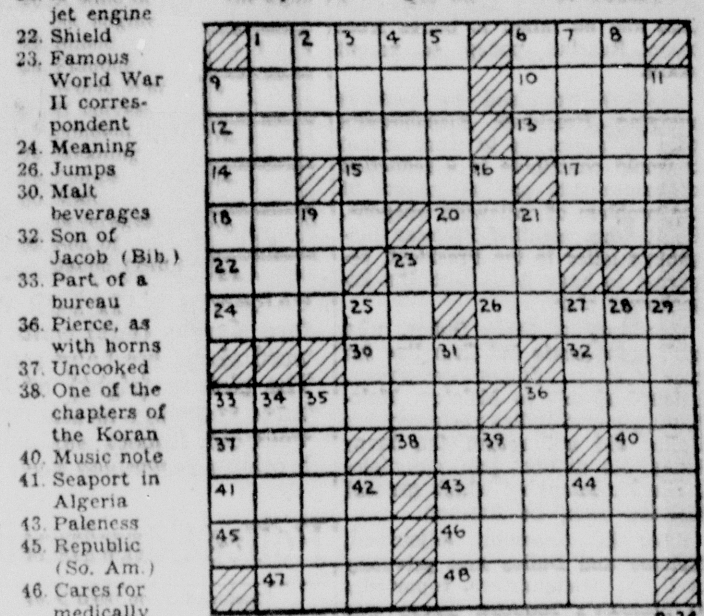

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 17 and go steady with a boy. My trouble is I can never think of something to talk about. I know others have this trouble and there are books written about it, but don't know where to find them. Could you suggest a few? Lucille

ANSWER: I have a prepared list of books on teen-age difficulties including the popular wail, "What can I talk about?" Send a self-addressed stamped envelope asking for the "Teen Age Popularity Reading List."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Molotov Urges End To World's Armament Race

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov today demanded an end to the world armaments race and a ban on nuclear weapons. He challenged the West to match Soviet demands by reducing their armed camps and giving up foreign military bases.

These were major points in an unusually-mild address by Molotov to the U.N. General Assembly. He spoke 1½ hours. He exuded the Moscow spirit, but he failed to give Moscow's answer to President Eisenhower's "open sky" inspection plan and he failed to budge from basic Russian policy of recent years.

Molotov promised to continue studying President Eisenhower's plan to ascertain to what extent it would contribute to a reduction of armaments and settlement of the problem of outlawing weapons. He did not mention Premier Bulganin's letter to the President, reported to have dealt with the Eisenhower plan.

Secretary of State Dulles, who took a moderate but firm line for the United States yesterday, listened closely to Molotov. Molotov applauded Dulles yesterday but Dulles did not return the favor today. He did not join the diplomatic handclapping which greeted Molotov when he finished.

After the Assembly adjourned, Molotov and Dulles met privately in U. N. headquarters, reportedly at Molotov's request. There was no comment from either, however, as to the subject under discussion.

Molotov introduced in the Assembly one of the most temperate resolutions the Russians ever have put up here. Instead of the old practice of blasting the West, he proposed that the Assembly consider all plans for disarmament and all other proposals intended to relax tension and prevent a third world war.

The Russians have been talking disarmament since the days of the League of Nations. Molotov said the termination of the armaments race must be the primary objective here.

"Enormous material and human resources are being diverted for war preparations instead of being used for constructive purposes, to improve the welfare of the people and to benefit economically underdeveloped countries and areas," Molotov said.

"This state of affairs must not be allowed to continue. The United Nations must speak up emphatically against the arms race and in favor of reducing armaments, outlawing atomic and hydrogen weapons and removing the danger of another war."

He reminded the Assembly that the Soviet Union has decided to reduce its armed forces by 640,000 men as of Dec. 15, 1955. He expressed hope other powers possessing substantial armed forces would take steps as a good will gesture without waiting for an international convention.

He recalled the Russians are turning back to Finland the military base in the Porkkala area. He said that at the end of the year there will be no Soviet military bases on the territories of other states and the Soviet Union has proceeded from "words to deeds." He added this gives the Russians reason to call on other powers to give up their bases on foreign territories.

group near Barbados were enveloped in silence despite a call for information from them by the U.S. Weather Bureau. St. Vincent, due west of Barbados, had possibly Grenda to the south were believed to have felt Janet's fury.

The storm snaked its way over the Caribbean Sea off the northern coast of South America after smashing across the Windward chain, following a serpentine course.

A state of emergency was declared on Barbados, a 166-square mile British-owned island with a population of 200,000. Communications were knocked out, wreckage strewn roads and the damage to sugar cane, the island's chief crop, was estimated in the millions in a dispatch from Bridgetown, the island's chief city.

While Janet prowled the Caribbean, Mexico counted its dead at 238 with nearly 400 missing from this week's visitation by Hilda, which struck near Tampico Monday. Latest report said 30 drowned at Panuco, accounting for the new death total.

then made the decision which caught him by surprise and ultimately saved her own life.

When the man began talking about using narcotics and attempted to rape her, Miss Danielson said she lunged for the gun. She was shot in the shoulder, but managed to open the door and fall onto the road.

She played dead and the killer drove the car away after first backing up over her head to make sure of his victim. Soft earth apparently saved her life.

Miss Danielson struggled to a switch-engine crew in northeast Denver by 8 a. m. and was taken to a hospital. Her ordeal lasted about nine hours from the time of the abduction.

dawn today from a backyard behind a flat at 98 N. 11th St., in San Jose. Mrs. Lois Freeman reported to police she saw a woman in a dark coat, with a baby-sized bundle in her arms, "shuffling away from the back of the house."

By the time she had aroused her husband and he could get to the street, the woman had disappeared. Mrs. Freeman said.

A jumble of conflicting leads has virtually inundated San Francisco police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which entered the case officially yesterday after an abortive $5,000 ransom demand. This ransom demand, however, is not believed to have any connection with the real kidnaper.

But the San Jose developments continuing for three days, seem to follow with reasonable consistency in describing a heavyset blond woman resembling the one seen at Mt. Zion Hospital just before the baby's disappearance from the nursery.

Yesterday morning a woman was accosted while trying to take diapers from a San Jose clothesline. She murmured something about needing some for her baby, having left her own "at the bus depot." She refused an invitation to come in for coffee and hurried away.

Other reports concerned a woman in San Jose who brought a wicker basket to warm her baby's bottle and quickly departed afterwards with a crying baby in her arms. A woman of the same general description was seen with a blanketed bundle near a parked car on a San Jose street before dawn. A baby food label later was found in the car.

ling military forces as of a given date.

Bulganin also stressed another Soviet proposal—"control of posts for ground inspection under international supervision."

On atomic weapons, the Soviet leader wrote the President that "we must remember that at the present, when the greatest armies of the world have at their disposal such means of mass destruction as atomic and hydrogen weapons, it is impossible, of course, to talk about disarmament without touching on this important subject."

He said the Soviets "have always attached paramount importance to the problem of prohibition of atomic weapons."

Bulganin voiced disappointment at lack of progress so far by a United Nations subcommittee on disarmament. He said the delay is due "to a considerable degree" to the fact that other nations do not know the U.S. position on some of the Soviet proposals before the subcommittee.

On Mr. Eisenhower's "blueprint" proposal, Bulganin said in part: "In principle, we have no objections to this proposal. I think that at a definite stage an exchange of such definite information between states is necessary. It would be better, however, if such information concerning armaments were submitted by all states, and not only by the U.S. and the USSR."

It is self-evident that information on all kinds of armaments, conventional as well as nuclear, must be submitted in order to avoid misunderstanding."

On the President's second main point of mutual aerial reconnaissance, Bulganin said:

"I do not doubt that... you were guided by a legitimate desire to create confidence that neither of our two countries would be subjected to attack by the other. However, let us be frank to the end. Under present international conditions both our countries are not acting singly." He said the U.S. has forces in many countries abroad and "the Soviet Union on its side has united militarily with several allied states. It is impossible not to see that the proposal introduced by you completely omits from consideration armaments and military installations which are outside the area of the United States and the Soviet Union... ## NAACP Target Of $100,000 Suit By Ex-Policeman

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 23 (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was sued today for $100,000 by a former policeman who claimed the NAACP instigated action which brought about his dismissal.

The suit by Arthur S. Lynch also named as defendants Mrs. Ruby Hurley, regional secretary of the NAACP, and other individuals. The action was filed in Jefferson County Circuit Court.

Lynch and Patrolman J. M. Siniard were dismissed from the Birmingham police force for the alleged beating of Charles Patrick, 34-year-old Negro, at the city jail last Dec. 11. Deputy Warden Earl Jackson was suspended for not reporting the incident.

Patrick had been arrested after Jackson was suspended for not reporting the incident.

Patrick had been arrested after a dispute with Mrs. Lynch, wife of the officer, over a parking place. He later was acquitted of a disorderly conduct charge.

Lynch, Siniard and Jackson were acquitted at a federal court trial of violating the civil rights of Patrick.

Robert N. Pratt, attorney for Lynch, said the suit is a challenge to the NAACP and its policy of maintaining a record of police actions in Alabama.

Champerty and maintenance action is a proceeding by which persons having no legitimate concern in a suit bargain to aid its prosecution or defense in consideration for prosecution of Lynch.

The NAACP move came after Patrick had stated he would not press charges after Lynch was suspended for 30 days, the suit charges.

The complaint said the former officer was "caused great damage and suffered great loss, caused to lose his job that paid him $3,744 a year, and was caused great embarrassment, caused to be held up to public ridicule all to his damages as aforesaid, the plaintiff claims punitive damages."

Davis To Decide

bridge club," and that he countered he knew dice and roulette operated there.

Later, he continued, a Times-Picayune reporter entered the club, and wrote a story before state troopers raided Grevenberg's house.

The state police chief said he, too, believes in home rule but not "home mis-rule."

"Contrary to what has been said," Grevenberg added, "99 per cent of the sheriffs always have cooperated with me."

Morrison, in speaking earlier, pledged the sheriffs:

1. "No law officer in this state will make less than $300 monthly salary."

2. Police training will be expanded with training facilities made available to every sheriff.

3. "On a local basis, complete cooperation in enforcement of our laws."

The mayor said he believes "four-square in strict law enforcement, yet you are entitled to full cooperation of state officials in carrying out your duties."

"We will work with you and share information in law enforcement. I believe in giving you a pat on the back instead of a kick in the pants."

Davis told the sheriffs "I'm always in favor of meeting elected officials because they had to get in the office the hard way—and they understand their responsibilities to the people."

"There's some things you don't forget—when you get married and when you run for governor," he related grinning at his audience.

"I once woke my wife at 2 a. m. and told her they're liable to get rough with me this time."

"But she assured me I did all right in previous election campaigns."

Davis and his audience laughed when he said he replied to her: "Yes, but this time they're liable to tell the truth."

He emphasized, "I would never go into any sheriff's parish to do over the matter with him... it's a matter of principle."

Candidate James McLemore promised cooperation with the local law officers, and pledged creation of a special narcotics squad. "I intend to have the finest narcotics squad in the nation."

And he said the new force would work closely "with you sheriffs."

McLemore advocated sharper penalties for dope offenders.

He also advocated higher pay for sheriffs and their men "because some of you are grossly underpaid."

Gov. Robert Kennon, joining the speaking, greeted the sheriffs and said: "I believe the peace officers of this state have discharged their duties honestly and creditably."

Three state officials took the opportunity to hint strongly they were attorney general Fred S. LeBlanc, state treasurer A. P. Tugwell and Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, register of the State Land office.

The sheriff's association elected Sheriff Chester Wooten of Plaquemines Parish, president; Sheriff J. W. Jeannotte of Avoyelles, first vice president; Sheriff Andrew Erwin of St. Tammany, second vice president, and former Sheriff Milton Coverdale of Ouachita, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 23 (AP)—Oil has been discovered in Israel, Development Minister Dov Joseph announced today. Quality of the oil is good, he said, but it is too early to estimate the quantities of oil and gas in the test well.

Joseph told a news conference the strike was made at Heletz, 30 miles south of Tel Aviv and 6 miles from the Egyptian-held Gaza strip, scene of violence between Israel and Egypt.

The well is producing from a depth of 4,906 feet. Joseph said, adding that the well pressure sent the first gush 12 feet in the air.

Strikers Told To Ignore Picketing Of Guard, Family

BESSEMER, Ala., Sept. 23 (AP)—Company and union officials today told employees of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co. they must ignore a family picket line and go back to work.

But E. L. McClain, 31-year-old discharged guard, said he would continue to picket the completely shut down plant. And his wife revealed that they were defying their national union president, David J. McDonald, head of the CIO United Steel Workers of America.

J. E. Bolen, works manager, and R. E. Farr, USW district director, in a joint statement said the work stoppage violated the company-union contract. They said Pullman-Standard workers were expected to get back to their jobs.

The Pullman-Standard plant has been closed for two days because union workers refused to cross the McClain picket line. The dispute had idled more than 900 workers with the first picketing beginning three days ago.

McClain was fired about two weeks ago after a fight with another employee. He claimed he was framed, and blamed his troubles on a dispute with the personnel manager, Herman Thompson, who also is Bessemer police commissioner.

McClain's Union Local 1466, to which he and other Pullman-Standard workers belong, decided by a split vote to respect his picket line. Since then hundreds of workers have refused to pass the husky 31-year-old Navy veteran and his pretty 25-year-old wife while they patrolled in front of the plant gates.

The Bessemer plant has a multi-million dollar backlog of orders on which the dispute has stopped work.

Van D. Jones, USW international representative, said a meeting of union workers had been called for 2 p. m. CST Sunday to discuss the joint statement of Bolen and Farr.

The union official said this meant that there was little likelihood of the plant resuming operations before next week.

McClain told a reporter he had received a telegram from McDonald, the national USW president, telling him the work stoppage was illegal.

Then his wife took over the telephone, saying, "This is the telegram I am getting ready to send to Mr. McDonald."

"My husband has no comment on your telegram. The McClain family will stop picketing the Pullman-Standard when they put my husband back to work. The union men are not striking. They're respecting our picket line because they know my husband was fired unjustly. If I were you I would get to the bottom of the thing before I order anyone to go back to work."

The case is being arbitrated but the union is not ready to arbitrate the case. "Are you?"

The McClains have four small children. The larger ones, Kathy, 5, and Jimmy, 3, have helped them carry placards urging Pullman-Standard employees to remain away from work until McClain is hired back.

Bolen and Farr said the work stoppage "was precipitated by the discharge of a watchman, E. L. McClain, who provoked a fight with a fellow worker while on the job in the plant."

"This work stoppage is illegal and is in clear violation of the contract between the steel workers and the company. The contract provides for an orderly grievance procedure to handle any alleged violation of the contract. At no time has there been a dispute between the company and the union in the method of handling this case..."

and read a letter from the Kiwanis club of Monroe which informed Dr. Hirsch that a plaque in his honor will be presented to him in the near future.

In each case of tribute, the Rabbi's wife was credited with much community work and with great assistance to her husband.

Dr. Hirsch, in his official farewell retirement address to his congregation, said, "If I knew I had saved one soul in the many years of my religious work I would be satisfied."

Controlling his emotion with difficulty, he wished all his friends Godspeed.

Dr. Hirsch, after 27 years of service here in the Jewish faith, was lauded by several guest speakers from the community.

Judge David I. Garrett, Fourth Judicial District court, spoke of the many services Dr. Hirsch administered in the fellowship of the various religious groups in the Twin Cities.

Ray Updegraff, a past Kiwanian president, paid tribute to Dr. Hirsch's work in the 32 years he has been affiliated with the club.
